Eisenhower to Have Surgery This Week

Will Lose Gall Bladder; Is Traced To Recent Examination at Hospital

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, 76, will enter Walter Reed Hospital this week for surgery to remove his gall bladder. Eisenhower's office announced today.

The five-star general will enter the hospital Thursday, although the exact day or time of the operation was not given.

Eisenhower's office issued this statement:

"The doctors have informed Gen. Eisenhower that he must have his gall bladder removed soon.

"He plans to enter Walter

Blaze Suspected, Year's Total Now Over 50 Mark

Another fire over the weekend said to be incendiary brings the total, to date, this year to more than 50, and this, as the year nears its end, will mark 1966 as rampant in the annals of local arson.

Two-Floor Damage

A blaze said to have started in outside rubbish, badly damaged the first floor of a three-story, brick vacant mercantile and apartment building at 67 Hasbrouck Avenue, owned by Jacob Parnett, of Hurley, Saturday night. Some damage was also reported to second floor areas.

A call at 8:09 p. m. was followed by alarms from Box 2121, East Union and Chambers streets, and 2131, Hasbrouck Avenue and Mill Streets. It mobilized units from Central and Cornell stations, the Union, Rapids, Cordis and Wicks companies, with Excelsior on standby. Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Julius E. Buchholz were in charge. Four hose lines were used.

Firemen said the first floor

Doctors Meet Tuesday Night

The annual meeting of the Medical Society of Ulster County will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday. Refreshments will be served 6:30 p. m. with dinner at 7:30 p. m.

Committee reports for 1966 will be read and election of officers held.

Doctors may contact Dr. Elbert MacFadden or Dr. Frederick Holcomb Jr. may be contacted for reservations by noon Tuesday.

3 Injured In Accident; Cite Drivers

Three persons were injured in one of three city traffic mishaps over the weekend and drivers were cited for violations in the other two.

Interchange Mishap

Injured in one at Albany Avenue and the Route 587 interchange at 2:45 p. m. Sunday were: Michael D. Provenzano, 20, of 188 Bruyn Avenue, driver of one car who reported back and neck injuries; Robert Toffel, 19, of Robin Lane, back and neck, and James Becker, 20, 49 Foxhall Avenue, head, neck back and shoulder injuries.

All were in the Provenzano car and were taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's ambulance. Police said the other car was driven by John T. Heybruck, 26, of 85 Franklin Street. Officer Otto Short, and Special Patrolman Harold Bowers investigated.

Robert Lund, 47, of 130 Delaware Avenue, driver of one car in a two-vehicle mishap at North Front Street and Washington Avenue at 3:15 p. m. Sunday was charged with driving while intoxicated. The other car was driven by M. Bernice Hamilton, 39, of DuBois Road, New Paltz. Officers Louis Sapp and Leon Fitzgerald investigated.

Andrew J. Locicero, 29, of 22 Stuyvesant Street, was charged with a stop-sign violation after a two-car collision at Smith Avenue and O'Neil Street at 4:45 p. m. Sunday. The other car was driven by Harold J. Grunewald, 43, of 133 O'Neil Street.

City court hearing of Lund was put over to Dec. 12, and of Locicero to Dec. 20.

Will Ask Death Penalty Against Dr. Coppolino

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino, charged in Florida with the murder of his wife, goes on trial today for the strangling of a retired Army officer, once the couple's neighbor.

The state said it would ask the death penalty for Coppolino, advancing as a motive an alleged affair between the anesthetist and the wife of the victim, Lt. Col. William E. Farber.

The first day's session in Monmouth County Superior Court before Judge Elvin R. Simmler was expected to center on jury selection.

Coppolino has turned over his defense to F. Lee Bailey, 33, a Harvard-educated attorney who won a retrial for Samuel H. Sheppard, then his acquittal last month on charges of beating his first wife to death.

Tax Woes Noted For Local Group

Today almost every phase of our life feels the frustrating effect of government regimentation and interference. Today we are faced with a collection of internal powers and bureaucratic institutions against which the average citizen seems absolutely helpless. This was the theme of the address by Gareth A. Shoemaker, president and treasurer of the Hygeia Refrigerating Company of Elmira and head of the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc., a statewide tax research organization, before a meeting of area leaders of business, industry, finance and the professions today at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

St. John Presides

Howard C. St. John, chairman of the Ulster County Committee, presided and in his introductory remarks explained that the Survey is non-partisan and non-profit, whose sole concern is the taxpayer.

He said the purpose of the Citizens Survey and the meeting is to counteract excessive governmental spending present and future at all levels. Everyone agrees that something should be done about wasteful government spending and unnecessary taxes. Most business leaders would like to do something, but do not know how to proceed.

Shoemaker pointed out that one out of every six employed persons in the United States today is on a government civilian payroll, federal, state or local. That there are some 40 million Americans today who receive some form of direct cash payment from the government. That the taxes collected by federal, state and local governments in 1966 will total an estimated $185 billion, an amount equal to approximately 30 per cent of the net national product which represents the total productive effort of all business and every individual in the nation.

Deficit Spending

Included in his other observations were the following:

Despite the high level of taxation, our national government has lived within its income in only six of the 21 years since World War II, and the national debt has grown by more than $60 billion since 1953 when the Korean War ended.

The deficit spending is the chief cause of inflation and that deficit spending is not for defense even though we are fighting a war in Viet Nam.

Need Quick Action to Save Saugerties, Esopus Sites

A total of $12,417.49 was raised over the past weekend by the Ulster County Radio/Videathon for the Ulster County Community Chest.

General Chairman John F. Schuchler called the event an outstanding success and commented on the enthusiasm of the organizations and citizens of Ulster County who, in his words, "were responsible for the outcome of this community event."

According to Schuchler, "by the time the radio/videathon had concluded at 1:12 a. m. Sunday, we had received more than 1,250 telephone calls from listeners and viewers who had made pledges.

"Recognizing this program was conducted at the conclusion of the Chest Drive, during the heavy Christmas shopping period and planned and organized in a period of three weeks, what was accomplished by all people participating in the program included ing the talent, technical people, radio and TV people and the many Ulster County citizens who made contributions, really and truly made this an outstanding success."

Schuchler commented on the exceptionally fine work done by the management and staff of the Kingston Cablevision Corporation, Inc.

"I want to emphasize," he said, "that during the morning hours, the audio signal was lost due to broadcasting difficulties at our studio, not necessarily associated with Kingston Cablevision's facilities.

"Through Cablevision's interest in helping out in this community effort," he said, "they were faced later in the day with a loss of a circuit breaker at their Port Ewen antenna site. Even though it was repaired, the power loss had caused damage

Yanks Step Up Air Battle Around Hanoi

Pilots Down One, Second Probable; Sky Full of Challenging Red MIGs

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. jets flew through a sky full of challenging Communist MIGs Sunday to bomb targets near Hanoi, and pilots reported shooting down one of the Red jets and probably a second. Retaliating for the heaviest U.S. air losses of the war two days earlier, the American fliers also claimed widespread destruction to one of North Viet Nam's major railroad marshaling yards six miles northeast of Hanoi.

Rocky Again Says No Chance to '68 Presidential Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who's been repeating he doesn't want to run for president for months, got a chance to say it again after a party pro called on him to "quietly reconsider."

Rockefeller, in answer to the urging of Deputy Mayor Robert Price, said his decision to stay out of the presidential scramble is "irrevocable."

Price, the image maker who steered Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay to a startling victory in 1965, said Sunday "I think he thinks he's out of it, but I don't. People are thinking of him in terms of 1968."

Rockefeller's reply, released through a spokesman, followed immediately. The governor, who sought the nomination in 1960 and 1964, has been playing a conciliatory role in party politics since Republicans scored big national gains in the November elections.

Best in GOP

Price said in a television interview that in terms of performance "Governor Rockefeller will probably make the best president of the United States among those eligible from the Republican party."

Rockefeller "must be considered the leadership of the 1968 convention, whether he wants it or not," Price said, calling him one of the top two or three possible candidates against President Johnson.

"I don't know if anybody can

Killed 12 More Cong

While the North Vietnamese capital fresh fighting was reported on the edge of South Viet Nam's capital at the Tan Son Nhut Airport.

American guards led by sentry dogs reported killing 12 more Viet Cong in flushing out remnants of an enemy suicide force which penetrated the big air base Sunday.

In the last two days, U.S. snipers reported, 30 Viet Cong were killed inside the defensive perimeter of Saigon's air base. Three Americans were killed and five wounded in the first Viet Cong attack. U.S. casualties in later action were reported light. One U.S. jet fighter and a Vietnamese transport were damaged.

Destroyer in Gun Duel

Off the coast of North Viet Nam, the U.S. destroyer Ingersoll fought a gun duel with North Vietnamese shore batteries this morning. U.S. headquarters reported.

A spokesman said the shore batteries opened fire on the Ingersoll while she patrolled six miles off the southern coast of North Viet Nam. The Ingersoll replied with her five-inch guns.

A U.S. spokesman said the destroyer suffered slight damage but no casualties. He had no assessment of damage to the shore guns. The engagement took place 11 miles northeast of Dong Hoi the spokesman said.

The stepped up air war around Hanoi dominated the picture as only small, scattered ground actions again were reported.

U.S. headquarters said American pilots clashed with MIGs and the advanced model delta-wing MIGs in four encounters.

Future Is Studied by Valley Unit

Kingston, Hudson Chances Better

Unless officials of the towns of Saugerties and Esopus come up with some concrete proposals, two of the Hudson River's oldest lighthouses will probably disappear in the spring.

High on the priority list for demolition are the lighthouses at Saugerties and Esopus Point. Chances now appear better for the preservation of the beacons at Kingston and Hudson.

Meeting Today

The question comes before the Hudson River Valley Commission today at its Iona Island headquarters near Bear Mountain as it studies the future of the Saugerties, Hudson, Esopus Meadows, Kingston and Tarrytown lights, according to the Associated Press.

All are no longer needed by the government. Coast Guard keepers have long since left the stone towers at Saugerties, Hudson, Esopus Meadows and near-by Kingston. All are now automated. The fifth, a steel, tank-style structure near the east shore of the Hudson at Tarrytown, has been deactivated.

In most danger are the Saugerties and Esopus Meadows lights, scheduled for demolition by the Coast Guard next spring. Each are about 100 years old.

The Hudson River Commission could have the lighthouses restored with federal funds under the Hudson River Compact Bill which was signed this year. After restoration the facilities could be turned over to local authorities for administration.

Possible Museums

Town of Esopus Supervisor Roger Mabie and Town of Saugerties Supervisor Peter Williams have met with commission officials to discuss preserving their lights, possibly as museums.

In Saugerties, where the Coast Guard is erecting a navigation-aids maintenance base not far from the lighthouse, the drive to save the old landmark is headed by Mrs. Chester Glunt.

Wife of a 28-year-veteran light attendant, Mrs. Glunt calls the lighthouse at the junction of Esopus Creek and the Hudson

$429,000 Granted Rhinebeck Water, Loan Total Same

The Village of Rhinebeck last week was granted permission to proceed with work on their $1,200,000 water purification and distribution system by the Farmers Home Administration.

Maynard Poray presented the letter from F.H.A. granting the permission to Mayor Robert Shackleton in the village offices. The Farmers Home Administration will grant $429,000 to the Village, and loan another $429,000 to the village to help in the financing of the water system.

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick said through his representative at the meeting he is extremely pleased and gratified to have taken part in helping to arrange for this federal aid to the Village of Rhinebeck.

"I am hopeful that this will provide for the needs of this community for many years to come, and it has been a pleasure to work with the Farmers Home Administration, and an outstanding administrator like Mayor Shackleton, to help solve this problem," Resnick said.

Snow Is Blamed For Two Deaths In Plane Crash

COPENHAGEN, N.Y. (AP) — A vicious snowstorm that battered this western Adirondack area Friday has been blamed for the deaths of two men whose bodies were found Sunday in the wreckage of a light plane.

The victims were Richard Tenney, 40, of Potsdam, the pilot, and LeLand Bouck, 39, of Hanawala Falls.

The twin-engine Piper Apache was demolished when it sheared into the trees off a road leading to this village southeast of Watertown.

The wreckage had been spotted from the air by one of a score of pilots that had been searching for the craft since Saturday morning.

Tenney and Bouck had taken off from Massena Friday afternoon enroute for Syracuse.

A heavy snowstorm, that left up to four feet of snow in its wake, swept across the area at about the same time.

A resident said she heard a low-flying plane about 2 p.m. Friday but was unable to see it because of the storm. Other persons told State Police they had seen flares in the air a short time later.

Tenney was a partner in an electrical contracting firm in Potsdam. He and Bouck were going to Syracuse to pick up another employee.

Fire Destroys 3 Sites in Mohawk

MOHAWK, N.Y. (AP)—A fire early today destroyed three buildings on West Main Street in downtown Mohawk today.

Only one injury was reported. A fireman, not identified, was struck by falling debris.

Sub-zero temperatures hampered fire-fighting efforts, although firemen said that snow on the roofs helped to slow the spread of the fire.

Firemen said they believed that the blaze began in a rear apartment on an upper floor of the four-story Lake Building at Otsego and West Main Street. The building contains a bar and grill on the first floor and apartments on the remaining floors. It spread to a building housing the Phillips' News Room and bus terminal and then to one that housed the Mohawk Home Service, a meat store. Several other small businesses in the three buildings were destroyed.

More than a dozen families were evacuated from the Lake Building and nearby apartment houses. All but those living in the demolished building were allowed to return, firemen said.

The cause was not determined immediately. There was no estimate of damage.

Climb 28 Stories For False Alarm

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—It took city firemen a 28-story climb Sunday to find they had responded to a false alarm.

Firemen sped to the 30-story Xerox Corp. Building, now under construction in downtown Rochester, after receiving a call that flames had been spotted on the 28th floor.

Finding the building's electricity turned off and the elevators inoperative, they began hauling hoses and other fire-fighting equipment up the staircase in four-degree-above-zero weather.

The firefighters eventually found the source of the flames—a kerosene fire being used to dry concrete.

Bishop Favors State Policy on Birth Control

The Right Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan, Bishop of New York released today the text of a letter on the subject of birth control which he recently sent to Hugh R. Jones, chairman, State Board of Social Welfare New York State.

The statement is as follows: "I understand that the State Board of Social Welfare will shortly act on a request that its policy on birth control information be revised to allow welfare workers to take the initiative in recommending family planning to their clients.

"As it has been interpreted to me, Commissioner Ginsberg's proposal as reported by Mayor John V. Lindsay would continue to protect the conscience and religious conviction of those who oppose birth control by other than natural means; welfare recipients would not be coerced into accepting family planning advice or penalized for failing to do so. "This being the case, I see no good reason why this further liberalization of state policy should not be adopted. I tend to agree with those who maintain that the present policy, although admittedly an improvement over the past, seems to operate against families who may not have the knowledge or initiative or temerity to bring up the subject of birth control.

"While no method of contraception is perfectly effective, there have to be other reasons for the high incidence of abortion among married women; I believe that one of these is an inadequate understanding of the family planning aids available to them. "I hope that the State Board will act favorably on this recommendation now before it."

Letter Commends Dr. Holcomb for Role in TB Health

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., 1966 honorary Ulster County Christmas Seal chairman of the 60th Christmas Seal Campaign has received a letter of congratulations from Meridith Willson, author of The Music Man, commending him for his continued role in Tuberculosis-Respiratory Disease work.

Dr. Holcomb, a past president of Ulster County TB Christmas Seal Association, has been a key figure for over 30 years of its 60-year history, and was honored as its first president emeritus last year. Deeply concerned with the present, complex problems of tuberculosis, Dr. Holcomb heads a group of area chairmen and workers throughout Ulster County in direction of the Christmas Seal Campaign.

In his message to Dr. Holcomb, Willson noted: It is with sincere pleasure that I welcome you to our mutually important 1966 Christmas Seal Campaign bandwagon. Hearty congratulations upon your appointment as Honorary Campaign Chairman in your community. As part of a united volunteer team we both have important assignments in the accelerated struggle to conquer tuberculosis and to dominate the other respiratory diseases which, to often, harass members of our own family, our circle of friends and our associates.

As you well know, our activities support a vital cause and you and I and the countless other members of the 1966 Christmas Seal campaign team have busy, but richly rewarding days ahead of us. I like Richard Carter's discussion of the extent of the influence of volunteer health agencies in his book, "The Gentle Legions." Writing of fund raising to support research, help patients, educate specialists and technicians, send information to doctors and legislators and otherwise promote warfare against diseases in which voluntary health organizations are interested, Carter says, "The substance of this work, the immense number of human beings engaged in it, and the zeal with which they pursue it help to define the health organizations as the largest social movement in the United States. Health voluntarism stands virtually alone nowadays as a means whereby millions of Americans assemble for direct action against any array of national problems."

If voluntarism is one of the last bastions of citizen participation then—in our roles of 1966 Christmas Seal Chairmen—let's nurture, strengthen it and see that it grows.

Again, as spokesman for the National Tuberculosis Association, I am pleased to greet you and to extend our warmest "thanks" for accepting the post of 1966 honorary Christmas Seal chairman in your community. My best wishes for the most successful Christmas Seal campaign in your history.

Willson, famed for his musical work, created the famous "Talking People" Choral group, and was music director of "The Big Show" on TV featuring Tullulah Bankhead. In addition to composing, writing and TV appearances, Willson makes frequent packed-house concert appearances throughout the country.

Famous Willson compositions include, May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You, You and I, and It's Beginning to Look Like Christmas. Willson's fame grew with the shows The Music Man and previously, Here's Love and The Unsinkable Molly Brown. As the 1966 National Christmas Seal chairman, Willson noted: "Maybe they couldn't sink Molly Brown but we can sink tuberculosis once and for all if we work harder than ever before to eliminate this contagious public responsibility!" Willson further said, "I will do all in my power to focus attention on the role the average citizen can play in the total eradication of TB and the control of other Respiratory Diseases."

The Ulster County Christmas Seal campaign is in its third week and continues to Dec. 31, and has shown increases over the first three week period of last year. "We urge the continued warm and generous support of our Ulster County people," Dr. Holcomb noted, "for our Christmas Seal dollars support wide and effective TB-Respiratory Disease and Health program here in our own area for our own people. In the next few weeks," he concluded, "we'll plan further informational reviews via our local papers to show everyone how their Christmas Seal dollars continue to work."

Reds Snooping Again

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet planes are again snooping on Japanese and American military bases in Japan after a lapse of three years, the Tokyo Shimbun reported today.

the paper said: "Our defense radar stations have spotted Soviet reconnaissance planes sweeping to within three miles off Japan's east coast areas." The report said Japanese officials believe the Soviet planes are spying on the movement of U.S. planes, warships and transports and on Japan's new semi-automatic air warning network now under construction.

Chicago Teachers Return

CHICAGO (AP) — Striking teachers have voted to return to their classrooms at the city's eight junior colleges. The action came Sunday night after the school board promised to recognize their union.

Some 300 members of Local 1600 American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, approved the proposed settlement by acclamation when told the board would recognize the union as a collective bargaining agent for teachers.

The strike began Nov. 30.

Roadblocks Net Three Hunters, 20 Motorists

A detail of six state troopers and five State Conservation Department officers set up roadblocks on main highways in the Town of Prattville between 2:30 and 6:30 p. m. Sunday and cited 20 motorists for vehicle and traffic law violations and charged three hunters with conservation law offenses.

State Police Sergeant Herbert Newton of Leeds said the violations against the hunters were illegal transportation of deer, transporting untaxed venison and having loaded guns in a car.

The vehicle and traffic violations included improper equipment, unsafe tires, registration and license offenses.

Sergeant Newton reported most of the violators were non-county residents.

The Church Times says the service may "convey the impression to the world that one religion is as good as another. At a time when the Church of England is being urged by its leaders to accept officially authorized forms of service in the interests of restoring discipline, it is ironic to find Westminster Abbey indulging in a mingeled mixture of religious worship like this."

YMCA Schedules Meeting on New Chapter in Paltz

An open meeting for adults interested in how a YMCA program of activities could be sponsored in New Paltz will be held on Wednesday, at 8 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall of the New Paltz Methodist Church.

A film strip, entitled, "You, Too, Can Have a YMCA in Your Community" will be shown, after which Extension Committee and YMCA staff members will answer questions. If sufficient interest is shown, assistance will be given to a representative group in getting a YMCA started in New Paltz.

Most people are aware of the rapid growth taking place in New Paltz, and in the whole of Ulster County. The YMCA is a people oriented service agency that can serve youth and adults of today as well as to do special planning for tomorrow. Toward this end, all citizens of New Paltz who are interested are invited to attend the open meeting on Wednesday. Clubs and organizations which are service-oriented are particularly urged to have representatives in attendance.

The YMCA of Kingston and Ulster County is a member agency of the Ulster County Community Chest, Inc. New Paltz is included in the service area of the Ulster County Chest.

Easier to Paint Than Remove It, Students Learn

Two 19-year-old college students apparently have learned the hard way that it is much easier to apply paint to an object than it is to remove it after it sets.

The youths, Steven J. Birdsall, Bangall, and Roger W. Scheff, Stanfordville, pleaded guilty last week before a Town of Stanford Justice of the peace to charges of malicious mischief. They were accused of painting Bangall's Civil War cannon in varied colors on Nov. 20.

Sentencing was deferred until Friday, Dec. 9 and Judge Frank Weber told the students that restoration of the cannon at the Soldiers' Monument in Bangall's square would be part of the sentence.

In sub-freezing temperatures, Birdsall and Scheff went to work Saturday to restore the cannon to its original shade of color. The youths worked until after dusk.

Saturday night, Judge Weber said he was "very impressed" by what the students had accomplished in their cleaning up project, although there is more to be done before the job is complete and acceptable to the judge and community.

Hunter Is Shot In Greene Mishap

A 24-year-old man was accidentally shot but not seriously wounded at noon Sunday while game hunting with two companions in a wooded area in the Town of Greenville, Greene County.

State Police Sergeant Herbert Newton of the Leeds substation said Vincenzo Martino, of Georgia Street, Ridgewood, was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, and treated for gunshot wounds of the left leg above the knee.

According to a report of BCI Investigator Patrick Romagnano, Martino was accompanied by two friends at the time of the incident. It could not be determined who fired the shot that hit the Ridgewood man, authorities said.

Hit by Truck, Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — An elderly man was killed today and his companion injured critically when they were struck by a truck while crossing a Manhattan street.

The dead man was identified tentatively as Peter Anton, 64, William Randolph, 63, was in critical condition in Beekman Hospital.

Police said the truck was operated by Garrison Cohen of Newburgh. No police action was taken.

Critical After Fall

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A college student who apparently fell from a third floor dormitory window was in critical condition at Albany Medical Center Hospital today with multiple injuries.

Alan Fossa, 25, of Auburn, was found on the ground Sunday night outside Waterbury Hall at the State University at Albany, police said.

DEMOLITION PROGRESS — The one-story building which housed a well-known downtown establishment on Ferry Street, Tucker's Live Poultry Market was razed during the weekend and bulldozers of the demolition contractor were expected to proceed further along the block as the debris is removed. Ham Radio Club Formed at RVHS Rondout Valley High School boasts a ham radio club.

Under the sponsorship of science teacher Ronald Klock, the Rondout Valley Amateur Radio Club is a going concern. Its seven members have put a complete club station into operation, and conduct periodic communications with other high school amateur radio clubs as well as with many amateurs throughout the eastern United States.

Two members, Michael Martin and Thomas Becker, have achieved the novice class license and have constructed equipment which they operate in their amateur radio stations. These boys are now pursuing the General Class license. The other five members, Steven Marshall, Chris Wikane, Joseph Clarke, Gordon Smith, Richard Ross, will soon be taking their examination for a novice class license. All members regularly attend electronics and code classes.

This is a world of power. Without it, the free world would not remain free long. Nation after nation now govern by tyrants fell before the onslaughts of unscrupulous dictators.

It is fortunate that America—the chief defender of the free world—has the know-how and the means at hand to counteract the powers that would destroy our freedom.

In the very center of this power is the vital and dynamic aerospace industry. Its operations are far-reaching. They extend into both the commercial and military worlds. This means that every last person in the United States is benefitted by more than 20 corporations functioning in this field.

In the commercial world, aircraft now in production and plans in the development stage are, by the speed of flying machines, making the world smaller and smaller.

Planes traveling several hundreds of miles an hour are already in the air. A friend of mine living in New York City recently flew to Seattle to attend a very important directors' meeting. He went and returned the same day, and the meeting lasted two hours. In recent years, this trip took an entire week.

Helicopters are becoming indispensable short-line carriers. A skyscraper in the heart of New York City is the takeoff and landing place of helicopters to Kennedy Airport. The flying time is 10 minutes, which is a sharp contrast with the travel time of limousines. And to a $50,000-$100,000-a-year executive flying to Seattle, saving an hour or two in travel time is most valuable.

Huge jet transports are in the air. Right now, planes carrying 180 persons at 620 miles an hour are flying. By 1970, planes carrying 500 persons at 1,800 miles an hour (supersonic)—30 miles a minute—will be functioning.

A leading executive of a large aerospace corporation tells me that a lunar-space orbiter craft is now taking pictures of the moon and that within three or five years, we shall land on the moon.

In the military field, a great variety of power machines is being turned out. Here is a short list: rocket boosters, Nike-Zeus anti-missile missiles, attack bombers, propulsion units, nuclear-powered and ballistic missile submarines, Polaris missiles, Midas and Samos satellites and a score of other power-producing vehicles.

Speed and destruction will characterize the aerospace industry in the decades ahead. Peace-time tranquility and war-like preparation will be in the very center of national life.

Investors should interest themselves in the aerospace industry. Its growth is guaranteed. It is a speculative industry, but its future assures investors that they can share in its dangers and rewards.

Ten per cent of my own security holdings are in this industry.

What are some of the leading corporations?

Boeing, with annual sales of more than $2,000,000,000, Douglas, with more than a billion, General Dynamics and Grumman, each with a billion and more. Lockheed, a giant, whose sales in 1965 were $1,800,000,000, and in 1966 will probably be more than two billion.

Yes, this is a power world and most investors should put some of their savings into it.

THE FORUM

(Q) "I bought Douglas at $80 a share. It went to $111. I held it. It is now $35 a share. Should I take a loss?" A.E.F.

Morehead Shows Unusual Squeeze

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The death of Albert H. Morehead, former bridge editor of the New York Times, is a great loss to bridge. He was a dear friend to all the Jacobys and we could write forever about his many good qualities. We will devote only this week's series to a discussion of his great book, "Morehead on Bidding."

In this book Morehead describes modern bidding and gives the play of many interesting hands. Today's hand illustrates that the response of two in a lower suit shows at least 10 or 11 hard card points and that South can rebid two no-trump to show a sound hand of no-trump pattern.

South wins the second heart and plays the king and another club. When West shows out South can only count eight tricks and he can't afford to give up a club because East will be able to give his partner three heart tricks.

South makes the hand by abandoning clubs and leading a heart from dummy. If West doesn't take his heart tricks right away South will be able to concede a club trick to East, therefore West cashes his hearts.

South discards two spades and a diamond from his hand and a club and diamond from dummy. East lets two spades go. West leads the queen of spades. South takes with dummy's ace and leads a spade to his king.

lance where she was pronounced dead.

Witnesses reportedly told Town of Poughkeepsie police Miss Hornung walked between southbound cars and was hit by the Whatham vehicle.

Dr. Chester H. Golding, Wappingers Falls, Dutchess County medical examiner, gave a verdict of accidental death, pending an inquest.

Relatives said Miss Hornung was employed at Trussell's Manufacturing Co., Inc., for about 20 years. She resided with her cousin, Mrs. Charles H. Vail, and authorities believe she had just alighted from a bus after shopping in the city of Poughkeepsie.

Among those who died in a fire was Dr. Neil Rogers, who had lived in Saratoga Springs since his retirement from a notable medical practice in France. He was 53.

In other types of accidents, 16 persons were killed in traffic mishaps. Guy Courson, 10, of Cassadaga, was accidentally shot to death Saturday when a rifle being held by his father in another room discharged and the bullet pierced a wall before striking the boy.

The accidental death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at Midnight Sunday.

Severe cold frequently is accompanied by an increase in deaths caused by fire because temporary heating devices are employed and furnaces are pushed up to obtain more heat.

The weekend's worst traffic accident occurred Sunday when four young men were killed in a one-car crash on Long Island.

Fulbright Will Re-Open Hearings On Viet Nam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is going to cross-examine the administration again on its Viet Nam policies, says Chairman J.W. Fulbright.

The Arkansas Democrat, a critic of U.S. policy in Viet Nam, said in an interview that government officials also will be asked to assess what is going on in Communist China and the condition of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Fulbright said no definite arrangements have been made, but he expects to hold both public and private committee sessions.

Hearings this year erupted into some bitter arguments between committee members and witnesses including Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Says Over 1,000 Hanoi Trucks Are Wrecked From Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — A deadly one-two punch of day and night attacks by U.S. planes has destroyed well over 1,000 North Vietnamese trucks since spring, a Pentagon source reports.

The officer who supplied the count would not say how many American planes had been lost in strikes against the Communist trucks.

The trucks were lost over a five-month period, the source said. He declined to be precise about the total, but said it was well over 1,000. If an average of seven trucks were knocked out daily in the 150-day period, the total would be 1,050.

Only a few days ago the Air Force chief of staff, Gen. John P. McConnell, said U.S. planes damaged or destroyed 530 Communist vehicles in one phase of recent bombing operations. He said enemy motor traffic into South Viet Nam was "dropping sharply."

Night fliers locate targets with radar, flares which illuminate wide areas and infrared sensors which detect heat of truck engines.

Five William and Mary students founded the honorary scholastic society on Dec. 5, 1776, five months after the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

'Somebody Goofed'

BARRINGTON, R.I. (AP) — The same letters that Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., sent last week to console Democrats who lost bids for election to town office also were received by the traditionally victorious Republicans.

Members of Pell's staff explained: "Somebody goofed."

Hold Early Yule Party for Boy

DOWNINGTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Five-year-old Lance Cummings, stricken with incurable stomach cancer, looked up from his lap full of presents and said he knew why Santa Claus had paid him an early visit. "I've been good and the other children have been bad," he said as friends and relatives gathered Sunday for a "just in case" Christmas party. The red-haired boy may not be alive on Dec. 25. So doctors at the Chester County Hospital let him go home to celebrate the holiday early.

The relatives and friends were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wagner in nearby Narvon for the Christmas party. "When you have trouble, you can always tell who your friends are," said the boy's mother, Mrs. Walter Cummings. "And we discovered we certainly have a lot of them." The family has received widespread offers of financial aid from as far away as Texas, Kentucky and West Virginia. Many children, including Lance's five brothers and sisters, gathered around his wheelchair Sunday as he opened the gifts and proudly displayed each item. Sunday was Lance's second trip home since he was hospitalized Nov. 10. The first time was at Thanksgiving.

Tax Woes Noted for Local..

spending from 1960 to the estimate for this year will increase from $45.9 billion to $61.4 billion, a rise of $15.5 billion or 43 per cent.

Non-defense spending in the same period will jump for $48.4 billion to $63.6 billion, an upward leap of $3.2 billion or 73 per cent.

For some years, inflation had been creeping up at the rate of 1 1/2 per cent a year. In the past year, the rate has more than doubled — a 3.7 per cent rise in the consumer price index as of October this year over a year ago. Is the creep now turning into a gallop?

In the past 25 years, our dollar has lost more than half of its purchasing power. But, we are told, incomes have kept pace and we are earning twice as much, so we are still holding our own. This reasoning, if you can call it that, completely overlooks the part played by the progressive income tax, which is based on the number of dollars earned and not on their value. A man who earned $5,000 in 1940 must earn $14,000 today to break even and pay his increased taxes. And the $10,000 a year man of 1940 must earn $31,000 just to maintain the same purchasing power and the same standard of living that he had in 1940 and pay his increased taxes.

What steps have been taken to combat the present flaring inflation? The initial method chosen was to increase taxes. The suspension this year of investment credits and slowing down of depreciation write-offs will increase business tax payments by $2.5 billion a year even though there is no increase in tax rates — both business and individual — are being freely forecast for 1967.

Remember that social security payroll taxes automatically will rise $1.2 billion in 1967

The State Operation

What is going on here in our State of New York? Of one thing I am sure. It is becoming increasingly difficult, if not downright impossible, for any taxpayer citizen in the state to know just what is going on in the state's fiscal operation. The State Comptroller has reported: "The numerous funds and fiscal practices created over the years have tended to obscure public understanding of the state's financial policies and operations." In reference to the separate funds, the Comptroller also said: "The operations of these funds are too complex for meaningful understanding."

In 1965 the State reached the end of the line. It could no longer postpone facing up to its overspending situation and had to enact a $740 million increase in annual state taxes.

In 1966 the same pattern is being repeated. This year the State plans to spend $547 million more than last year. Last year's spending was $566 million more than the preceding year's total. In these two years, annual state spending will have grown by more than $1.1 billion.

About $400 million of this year's rise is due to mandatory and obligatory increases and $147 million is new spending.

One fact which everyone should understand when new spending programs are proposed each year is this:

In the next year's budget and every year thereafter, these increases will be "mandatory and obligatory."

33 New Programs

The Survey has tabulated the costs of 33 state government spending programs added over the past 20 years. The list is not complete but these are the programs for which annual costs can be readily ascertained. Of these 33 programs, public housing was the only one in existence prior to fiscal 1945-46 and its cost in that year was half a million dollars. In the State Budget for 1966-67, these 33 programs called for the spending of more than $484 million. That, my friends, is more than $484 million to be spent this year for state programs, only one of which was in existence twenty years ago.

Now, a case can be made for every one of these programs and there is no doubt that there are numbers of people who are benefiting from them. But I ask you, are all of these programs more desirable than avoiding an increase of nearly a half-billion dollars in the tax burden? Furthermore, I wonder if all those programs would have been enacted if their eventual cost had been spelled out in the beginning. At the beginning of every one of these programs, the cost was a relatively minor amount compared to the heights of its subsequent growth.

That is why the Survey worked for enactment of a requirement that every bill introduced in the Legislature, which would increase spending or taxes, have a "price tag" attached. This "price tag" would be in the form of a "fiscal note" showing not merely how much the proposal would cost initially, but what the cost would be when in full operation. A price tag or fiscal note now is required under the Rules of the Senate adopted this year.

Sewage Disposal

This year's appropriations include $8 million as state aid for operation of local sewage disposal plants. The increase in this new annual state expenditure as $1.7 billion worth of such plants are constructed and commence operation obviously will be of colossal proportion.

In the past ten fiscal years, the State spent an average of $166 million a year for construction of highways, parkways and grade-crossing elimination. The Governor now calls for highway, parkway and grade-crossing programs over the next ten years which will require the State to spend an average of more than $300 million a year. That spending is from state taxes and does not include federal aid.

Plans for expansion of mental hygiene facilities call for a $600 million construction program to 1970. The operating costs of those facilities as they are completed will be additions to annual state budgets.

The plan for higher education calls for the expenditure of $1.3 billion by 1970 for capital construction of state university facilities with the State also to share the capital construction costs of community colleges, estimated at $300 million, and the construction by the City University of New York estimated at $400 million during the same period.

The State is constructing a $480 million office building complex in Albany and additional office buildings in other cities of the State. These are to be paid for under a lease-purchase plan which will further swell annual state expenditures in the years ahead.

During the current fiscal year, approximately $2.4 billion, 60 per cent of the State Budget, is for aid to localities. The lion's share, $1.4 billion, is for state aid to schools.

State Aid to Schools

In Syracuse during the recent election campaign, the Governor described state aid to schools as the major key to whether state taxes would have to be increased. He said that continuation of hikes in school aid at the rate of $100 million to $200 million a year "cannot be absorbed in the present tax structure."

Since then, the State Education Commissioner has estimated that state school aid will increase automatically $140 million next year and the State Educational Conference Board has called for a change in the school aid formula to add another $150 million to school aid—a total jump of $290 million next year. All of this new spending may be desirable. Some certainly is necessary. But, when the necessary and desirable add to an overburdensome total, consideration should be given to priorities. Provision for the less pressing items must be postponed or slowed down. We cannot do everything for everyone all at once.

I do not need to remind you of the rising costs of local government and local taxes. You would be well advised, however, to consider how much of those increases are due to incentives, inducements and mandates by the State for more local spending.

Is there anything that we, the taxpayers, can do about it? If I didn't think the answer was yes, I would not be here. Let me take just a few minutes to tell you a little bit about the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey of New York State and how it can help you in asserting your influence on government. The Survey was established in 1939 by a group of men who were concerned about the constant deterioration of our freedoms through our so-called tax systems. The Survey is non-partisan and it is non-profit. It operates on membership support from people like you. It is the only statewide organization in New York State whose sole purpose is to promote economy and efficiency in government. It is in truth a watchdog of the public treasury, and as you well know, the public treasury is your taxes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Controversy hovers over Sen. J.W. Fulbright like an umbrella. Some he creates himself. Some of it lies in wait for him.

He went to Stockholm Sunday to deliver a lecture and was met at the airport by a bunch of who quizzed him on foreign affairs and civil rights. It was hardly an illuminating session. The Arkansas Democrat was widely known before he arrived, not only as chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee but as one of President Johnson's most persistent critics on American involvement in Vietnam and in the Dominican Republic's crisis of 1965.

The Swedes even knew his record on civil rights. The Swedish press had described him as a "liberal on foreign policy who is strongly conservative on the civil rights issue."

Fulbright refused to answer most questions on Vietnam but on civil rights said "there has been great misunderstanding abroad here and elsewhere, on this very matter, which is an internal matter of the United States."

He suggested a solution should begin with efforts to improve educational, health and social conditions for the Negro and pointed out that "my state has never had any riots like those in Watts (Los Angeles) or Chicago."

But, if one of the Swedish newsmen had been on recent American history, he could have pointed out that, while Arkansas had no riots, in 1957 it provided the first great civil rights crisis.

This was a test between the federal government and Southern states in carrying out the Supreme Court's 1954 decision banning public school segregation. In 1957 Gov. Orval Faubus used National Guardsmen to keep Negro children from entering Central High School.

Then President Dwight D. Eisenhower had to use federal troops to back up a court order to integrate the school. Fulbright was criticized by liberals at the time for not speaking out against Faubus.

Denounced McCarthy Yet, Fulbright was one of the very few senators who had the courage to denounce Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy in the Wisconsin Republican's early days.

But Fulbright himself in 1955 was one of the 19 senators and 77 House members who signed the Southern Manifesto denouncing the Supreme Court's 1954 school decision and pledging by "all lawful means" to have it reversed.

And Fulbright has voted consistently against all the Civil Rights Acts passed in this century: in 1957, 1960, 1964 and 1965.

Long ago — in 1946 — in an address on the role of the legislator in American life, Fulbright gave some insights into his thinking about the problems of a member of Congress like himself.

He said a legislator learns early there are "certain interests, or prejudices, of his constituents which are dangerous to trifle with."

Some of these prejudices, he said, are not of fundamental nation and the legislator therefore is "justified in humoring them, even though he may disagree."

He said he didn't consider the endless battle in Congress over abolishing the poll tax — the big civil rights issue of the 1940s — as of fundamental importance and so would "follow the views of the people of my state."

But, he said, on an issue as important as supporting the United Nations, he would support it no matter how his constituents felt.

Fulbright has needed presidents other than Johnson. In 1958 he called Eisenhower's foreign policy a "drift to disaster." And when the Republicans gained control of Congress in 1946, Fulbright suggested President Harry S. Truman resign after appointing a Republican secretary of state to succeed him. There was no vice president then.

Youngstown Still

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Two major Youngstown hospitals continued operating at less than half of capacity today as a walkout of some 350 general duty nurses went into the fifth day.

Normal capacity of North and South Side hospitals is 790 patients. There were a total of 365 patients at the two hospitals Sunday. A hospital spokesman indicated there has been an adequate number of registered practical nurses to fill in for the general duty nurses who resigned en masse Thursday.

The Youngstown General Duty Nurses Association is demanding that current monthly pay of $429 be upped to $480 now, with monthly increments of $20 and $30 next March 1 and Dec. 1. The Youngstown Hospital Association already has boosted pay to $470 a month for nurses who stayed on the job last Thursday.

Traffic Is Up on Hudson Spans; Revenue Decrease

Travel over the three Hunson River bridges under control of the New York State Bridge Authority showed a gain of 6.69 per cent over a year ago, the authority reported today.

This included a 12.17 gain on the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge, which clocked 156,853 vehicles compared to 139,838 last year. All spans clocked 1,105,396 in 1965.

The Mid-Hudson, at Poughkeepsie, showed a loss of 2,176 vehicles, having clocked 393,737 last month compared to 385,913 in 1965.

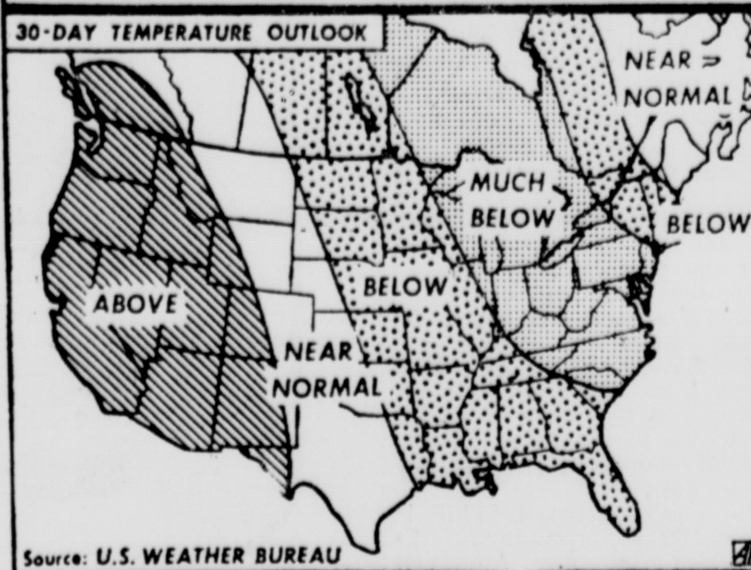

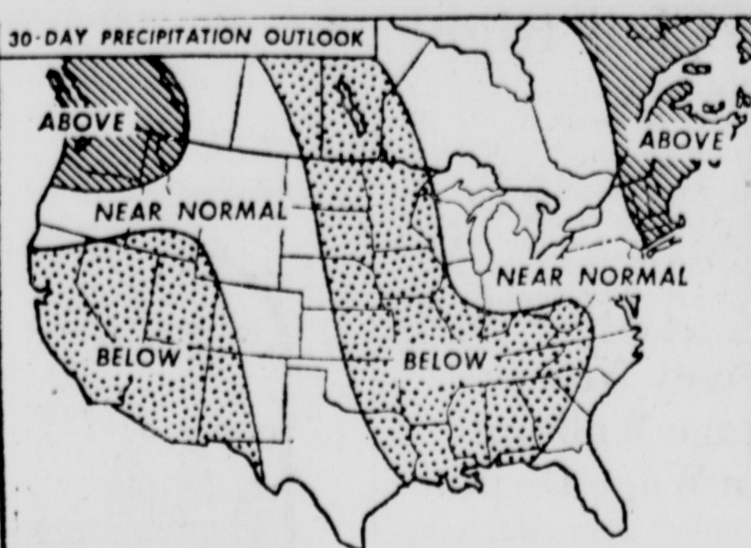

A gain of 16.01 per cent was noted on the Newburgh-Beacon, which had totals of 286,936 against 247,337. Rip Van Winkle, at Catskill, gained by 6.55 per cent with totals of 121,494 and 114,028. Totals on the Bear Mountain were 146,376 and 139,903, a gain of 4.63 per cent.

A revenue loss on all spans of 12.70 per cent was noted. The totals were $299,156.85 last month and $342,671 in November, 1965. This was due mainly to a recent toll cut on the Newburgh span.

Building Permits Totals $174,552 During November

Building Inspector George E. Radcliffe today reported issuing 21 permits for building, alterations and additions in November for a total of $174,552.

Four were for private homes at a total estimated cost of $85,802, and three were for additions at a cost of $40,500. Of the latter, one was for an addition to a structure of the Colonial Roofing Co., 432 Washington Avenue, at an estimated cost of $35,000. Two permits were issued for private garages at a cost of $3,200, three for alterations at $1,300, four for erection of signs at $3,600, one each for a scales and platform and foundation at an estimated cost of $3,000 for each, one for a patio at $950, and one for an oil heater at $1,100.

Stresses Safety In Choosing Yule Toys for Kiddies

It is estimated that several hundred American children will suffer needless eye accidents during the coming holiday season due to potentially dangerous toys and Christmas tree hazards and that some will become blinded, reports the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc.

On behalf of the Society's nationwide Safe Toy Campaign, John W. Ferree, MD, executive director of the NSPB, warns parents that 17 per cent of the more serious injuries to children's eyes are caused by missile-type toys such as pellet guns, dart guns, air guns, bean shooters and many toys with rubber bands such as sling shots.

He cites a recent case of a four-year old boy who was accidentally struck in the eye by a plastic whirling helicopter launched at close range with a rubber band causing an eye injury which could result in blindness. Dr. Ferree also alerts parents against buying "seemingly harmless" toys having protruding points, sharp edges, detachable parts or those made with flammable or plastic materials that shatter. Last month President Johnson signed "Child Protection" legislation which includes banning the sale of children's toys containing hazardous substances.

As part of its seasonal Safe Toy Campaign, the Society recommends that:

- Christmas trees, not made fireproof by approved chemical sprays, should be kept in water to prevent drying and causing fire hazards.
- Christmas trees should be kept away from heated radiators or fireplaces.
- All electrical wiring should be double-checked for shorts that can cause sparks and flames.
- Lighted candles should never be used on the Christmas tree and all tree decorations should be unbreakable and non-flammable.

Stresses Safety
The Society emphasizes that good eye safety habits and attitudes should be practiced in the home not only at Christmas time but all year round. Aerosol spray cans containing many different pressurized liquids such as insecticides, deodorants, antibiotics, oven cleaners, paint, and fixtures, should be kept out of reach of children at all times. It has been recently found that these liquids, if accidentally sprayed into the eye, can cause severe corneal damage.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc., founded in 1908, is the oldest voluntary health agency nationally engaged in the prevention of blindness through a comprehensive program of community services, public and professional education and research.

Trooper Gale Millett of the Rhinebeck-Hyde Park substation said Millus was taken to Northern Dutchess Hospital and treated for lacerations of an ear and lacerations over his left eye.

Trooper H. J. McNallen cited Millus for failure to keep to the right. The summons is returnable later before Justice of the Peace Frank Martin, Town of Red Hook.

Millus' car was a total loss, authorities said.

Today's Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF, AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Attacked by the federal government for charging "excessive" fees, certain members of the mutual fund industry are going to react like fat cats that have just been swatted.

Mutual funds are a volume business, so a slight change in fees can amount to millions of dollars. The funds have pegged their fees "high" because they believe their professional advice and management are worth a good price.

Feeling Is High

Advice, management and a diversified portfolio is the product. The fund people feel highly about this product.

Since the Securities and Exchange Commission feels the funds' services are worth a bit less, some members of the industry are taking the SEC report as a threat to life itself.

The SEC could have picked on other areas of this growing giant — aspects of the fund industry that may have to be faced in the future:

Chose Sensitive Area

—The growing power of funds to exaggerate price changes because of the enormous block of securities they trade; their power and potential to interfere in management of companies whose stock they own. The SEC chose fees, a far more sensitive area.

ment, decision are some of the information, opinion, judgment and take that makes ingredients that contribute to the give and take that makes an auction market in any product. It is particularly true of the securities market.

The funds offer "professional" understanding of this mixture of fact and fancy. The assumption is that fund management is far more informed and able than the individual. And for this it takes a fee.

Yearly Total $130 Million

The SEC says this fee averages out to a figure many times larger than that charged by banks for comparable services. It totals over a year's time about $130 million.

The fund industry has defenses. And one of them is the million of individuals who have big profits — paper or real. Many fund investors have seen their money increase through the 1950s and 1960s at a much greater pace than might have been possible with certain other popular investments.

But, stock prices have risen dramatically in the past 15 years. Who couldn't make money in such a market, the detractors ask? And, so asks the SEC. In reply, the fund people can offer the argument that many people would never have invested except for the promotion of stocks by the funds. They can honestly say they did as much to sell the concept as any other group in the market.

Objector Sentenced

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert L. Cuttito, a 22-year-old conscientious objector from Copiague, Long Island, N.Y., drew a three-year federal prison term Friday for refusing to report to work as a civilian at the government's behest.

Federal authorities said Cuttito, a former bank teller, was ordered by a draft board to go to work at Rockland State Hospital in Orangeburg, N.Y. He had been given a choice of joining the military service or accepting government work. Cuttito pleaded guilty last Oct. 31.

Woman, 80, Dies In Tonawanda Fire

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — An 80-year-old woman perished early today in a fire that swept her home in the suburban town of Tonawanda.

The woman, identified as Mrs. Emily Zwierske, died apparently of smoke inhalation, officials at Kenmore Mercy Hospital said.

Her son-in-law, Wilfred Neil, was taken to the hospital, where a spokesman said he was being treated for slight smoke inhalation.

Firemen found Mrs. Zwierske's body in the bathroom of her home. They aided Neil in escaping from the dwelling through a front window.

The cause of the fire was not determined immediately. The home is at 49 Glencove Road.

Penney Employees Are Paid Special Payment Benefits

Gordon Dew, manager of the Uptown Kingston store explained that checks will go to regular and part-time associates employed on or before Dec. 31, 1965, with the exception of members of the management staff.

"The year-end special payment is one of many benefits shared by Penney associates throughout the company," Dew said. "It is another way the company demonstrates interest in the welfare of people who are responsible for its continued growth."

The payment this year is an

Viet Roads Are In Bad Shape Due To Heavy Traffic

By KENNETH L. WHITING

MY THO, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's French-built roads are showing signs of crumbling under wartime traffic.

While more military equipment is being airlifted than in any war in history, the highways remain vital economic lifelines.

Most of the roads were constructed by the French in the 1920s and 1930s.

They were not built for either the volume of traffic or the weight of individual vehicles rolling over them now. Convoys of dump trucks, 6X6 Army vehicles and heavily laden fuel tankers rumble along thoroughfares designed for much lighter loads and much slower speeds.

Pot Holes Abound

Main streets in Saigon are being worn by big American trucks carrying supplies from the riverport to storage depots outside town. Capital streets are also potholed from excavations needed to lay new utility lines to serve the mushrooming population.

One of the worst problems is Route 4. It connects Saigon and My Tho and other points in the fertile Mekong River delta where much of the capital's food is grown.

Heavy seasonal rains eroded parts of this road, which is a vital government link by day but mostly controlled by the Viet Cong at night.

The Viet Cong have been able to curtail supplies of certain foods in Saigon for brief periods by blowing up bridges on this route.

Food Prices Rise

Interruption of traffic on Route 4 is immediately reflected in the price of food at Saigon's central market. The cost of fresh farm produce climbs sharply each time the road is blocked, whether by flooding or Viet Cong sabotage. Route 20 from Saigon to Dulat, an important vegetable growing area, has been blocked repeatedly.

The same is true of Highway 19, connecting the coastal city of Qui Nhon and Pleiku, over which many tons of American military goods have been moving for months.

Economists in Saigon fear that deteriorating highways are a major obstacle to stability.

Vietnamese officials estimate that 35 per cent of the roads are open compared with 26 per cent two weeks ago. The difference was made in repairing roads damaged by delta floods and Viet Cong bombs.

These officials regard 35 per cent as a high figure. They point out that highways have not been 100 per cent open "since about 1946."

Workers Start Removing Train Car After Mishap

PORTAGEVILLE, N.Y. (AP)

—Erie-Lackawanna Railroad workers were dispatched today to remove a hopper car that plunged 85 feet Sunday, from a trestle bridge to the main road of the Letchworth State Park.

The car, loaded with 100 tons of wheat, apparently broke two of its wheels and dragged along the roadbed for about a quarter mile, the park's superintendent, Carl Chasey, said.

Upon reaching the bridge, it broke loose from the other 91 cars of the Buffalo-Hornell train and tumbled to the snow-covered roadway, tearing away part of a retaining wall and spilling some of the grain.

The accident scene is in the park's southern section, near this Wyoming County hamlet. The area is little used in winter.

No one was reported injured. Chasey, noting that the park's foliage attracts large crowds in the fall, added, however:

"It would have been a different story if the accident occurred on the second Sunday of October, when the road is bumper to bumper with traffic." The hopper car was near the other cars was damaged fone middle of the train. None of the other cars was damaged and the train later continued on to Hornell, a railroad spokesman said.

Bonanza Episode Typical Example Why It Tops TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — After "Bonanza" hit the popularity heights and stayed there, many a producer tried to ring a switch on the show's durable format — a family unit — and some have had considerable success.

There is a family feeling built around "The Virginian" with Shiloh Ranch, "The Big Valley" has a matriarch instead of a father-figure running things, but there are grown children on whom to hang plots.

Shrewd Story Lines

None, however, has had "Bonanza's" success. And that success is not based merely on serving up an assortment of heroes, one of whom is bound to be popular with every segment of the viewing audience from junior to grandma.

Even more shrewdly, the show manages to combine story lines that are appealing to women while at the same time sunbathing the horses, guns and fiving fists that the men like.

Sunday night's episode was a typical example of the artful use of a sure-fire recipe for high Nielsen ratings.

The central figure was a nice girl who believed her incredibly boorish father when he kept telling her she was homely and bound to wind up a spinster. He kept doing dreadful embarrassing things like trying to buy her a bridesroom. Then there was a nice widower who didn't like to be bullied or bought but who was so shy he had to be blasted into pursuit of the girl.

As plots go, this old chestnut is not likely to result in any Emmy nominations, but it was the kind of happy ending Cinderella story in which women can get involved while the men-folks identify with the lads with the six shooters on their hips.

After a number of diffused, wandering programs and trying to cover whole music festivals, NBC's Telephone Hour seems to have hit upon a musical documentary formula that is pleasant to the eye, ear and brain. First there was the Metropolitan Opera opening show, Sunday night the subject was George Szell and the Cleveland Orchestra.

Kaye Eases CBS Worry

Highlight was the camera treatment of shirt-sleeve rehearsals of the orchestra, as Szell explained the effects he wanted and called for repeats until they were achieved.

Today is Monday, Dec. 5, the 339th day of 1966. There are 26 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1955, the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations united to become the largest federation of labor in the free world.

On this date: In 1782, Martin Van Buren, the eighth president, was born in Kinderhook, N.Y.

In 1848, President James Polk announced the discovery of gold in California which paved the way for the Gold Rush of '49.

In 1933, the 18th Amendment was repealed, ending nearly 14 years of prohibition in the United States.

In 1942, the White House ordered a halt to the drafting of men 38 or older.

In 1944, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that U.S. Naval units had penetrated Ormoc Gulf on the west coast of Leyte in the Pacific.

Another interesting bit showed Szell instructing student conductors in "stick technique." — the proper use of the baton.

It was a nice tour. Danny Kaye's decision to quit weekly television at the end of this season relieves his network, CBS, of an awkward decision. It is highly unlikely that CBS would have carried the expensive show with its expensive star into a fifth season after it had received poor ratings — in the bottom third of the Nielsen list — all season.

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Zoltan Hargitay, 6, the lion-mauled son of actress Jayne Mansfield, has developed spinal meningitis, doctors reported early today.

History's Cycle: Rudy Vallee's Singing Again

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — All because of a crazy new hit record called "Winchester Cathedral," Rudy Vallee finds himself hauling out his megaphone once more.

For the benefit of the new generation that knows him only as the stuffed-shirt magnate of "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," it should be explained that Vallee was the Beattle of the aspirin age. Through the depression years his nasal baritone was heard in ballrooms, theaters and through radios and phonographs in most American homes.

First Crooner

He was the first of the crooners. "I never had very strong voice," he admits today, and the only way I could be heard—this was before loudspeakers—was with a megaphone."

The conical cardboard gave his voice a distinctive sound, and it has been reproduced in the curious new record, "Winchester Cathedral," by an English outfit called the New Vaudeville Band. The first Vallee heard about it was when a Hollywood record company called him while he was appearing a few weeks ago in a St. Paul, Minn., nightclub.

"How would you like to make some records?" he was asked.

A Silent Singer?

"Are you out of your mind?" said the blunt Vallee. "Some days I can't even talk, much less sing."

He was told about the "Winchester Cathedral" record, and he said he would listen to it before making up his mind. Vallee didn't care for the record at first, but he admitted its dropping nostalgia grows on the listener.

By the time Vallee had returned to Hollywood, four record companies wanted him to make his own rendition of "Winchester Cathedral," as well as other tunes. He chose Viva Records, a subsidiary of Dot.

Pessimistic but Willing

"I don't think you'll be able to give away the records," he muttered, "but let's go ahead."

Last week he recorded the hit tune, along with some others of his own era: "The Whiffenpoof Song," "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," "Who," plus a version of "My Blue Heaven" that "would make Gene Austin turn over in his grave, if he were dead."

Now a pink-cheeked 65, Vallee expects no rebirth of his singing fame. He plans to continue pursuing his acting career, and may turn up on "Batman" soon.

"When are you going to think of me as a father instead of a banker?"

Cops Seek Name Of Woman Found Friday in Hudson

Identity of a middle-aged woman whose body was recovered from the Hudson River Friday near West Park remains unknown.

Sheriff William B. Martin today said six persons reported missing have been eliminated and there is no positive identification of the body. He reported a considerable sum of money was found pinned to the underclothing of the woman who was described as being five feet five inches tall and about 45 years of age, white with brown hair and eyes and weighing 155 pounds. She was attired in a light blue dress and beige stockings but wore no shoes or coat.

Other than a bruise on the chin which may have come from contact with a rock, and a fractured ankle, there were no other marks on the body and it is presently believed the woman was not a victim of foul play.

Forward Picture

A picture of the woman has been taken and forwarded to missing persons bureaus. A check is being made of missing persons in the greater New York area, Sheriff Martin said.

The finding of a car at a gas station in the West Park area, some two miles from the point where the body was recovered Friday, apparently has no connection with the "suicide," Sheriff Martin said. He stated the car had been left at the gas station "a few days" before the body was found in the river.

However, Sheriff Martin said, any connection with the car and the body was being explored. A check of the license indicates the car may belong to a Mildred Hopkins of Brooklyn but the operator of the gas station had not been located and Sheriff Martin said it was not known whether the car had been abandoned or left at the gas station for service. That situation was being checked into today.

Sheriff Martin said the possibility that the car left at the gas station a few days prior to the finding of the body would be thoroughly checked out to ascertain whether there was any connection with the abandonment of the car and the apparent suicide.

It was estimated the body had been in the water about 24 hours prior to its discovery. The body was discovered Friday afternoon by a Brother of the Christian Brothers Novitiate, who was walking along the river bank at West Park when he spotted the body floating in the river near the shore. After spotting the body the sheriff's office was notified and Sheriff William B. Martin, County Investigator Thomas Mayone and Deputy Sheriff Marshall Canosa went to the scene and recovered the body. The body was close to the shore and was recovered by the use of a short pole.

Bar Fitzsimmons

Concern for the public welfare by seeking out and appointing a new man or woman as welfare commissioner who has the qualifications, training, and experience that New York State now specifies for its County Welfare Commissioners.

"The Luni case has conclusively demonstrated that Fitzsimmons lacks not only the education and training required for his position but—even more important—lacks the sensitivity, compassion, and human understanding which are the indispensable ingredients in the functioning of a welfare department. Nobody who would remove a child from her home without overwhelming cause is fit to be a welfare commissioner."

A food preservation specialist estimates that some 20 million homemakers in the United States do some canning.

Dean Rusk in Japan

TOKYO (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived in Japan today on his way to a NATO meeting in Paris. He also is scheduled to visit Nationalist China, South Vietnam, Thailand and Iran before attending the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Council of Ministers Dec. 15-16. He goes to Formosa Wednesday.

Rusk will meet Tuesday with Prime Minister Eisaku Sato and his new foreign minister, Takeo Miki. He said he is delivering a letter from President Johnson to Sato and expects to discuss matters of mutual interest to the United States and Japan.

Snow Hits Italy, Isolates Villages

ROME (AP)—Driving snowstorms piled up drifts that isolated villages in Italy's Alpine and Appennine Mountains today but the cold weather eased a new flood threat to Florence, Bologna and the Po delta.

The snow reached a depth of 20 inches in the hills around Bologna and up to 30 inches in the mountain passes near L'Aquila in central Italy.

Throughout most of the Appennines and the Alpine foothills of the north auto travel was possible only with chains. Many villages were isolated as drifts piled up in secondary roads.

In Bologna, tributaries of the swollen Reno overflowed their banks and poured across streets and residence suburbs at the western side of the city. The water was so deep in some streets that traffic was halted. The water poured into ground-floor shops and homes.

No casualties were reported. The Arno, through stricken Florence, stopped rising well below flood level.

Children trudged down muddy streets, returning to school for the first time since the disastrous Nov. 4 floods. Many of the schools still were without heating. Classes from some schools too badly damaged to be reopened were transferred to prefabricated emergency schools.

Thousands of acres of the Po delta still were inundated. Residents of Donzella Island in the delta were evacuated for a second time in a month as a precautionary measure.

Driving winds across the stormy Adriatic sent the morning high tide surging in once more over the canal city's famed St. Mark's Square.

First rain, and then snow lashed the city, which has had floods ever since the Nov. 4 disaster smashed its guarding breakwater out beyond the lagoon.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved a little higher on balance early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

After last week's string of declines, some improvement was expected. It was slow in coming, however.

Some of the higher priced glamor stocks added a point or 2. Selective strength was displayed also among airlines, chemicals and nonferrous metals.

Electronics, drugs, oils and rails were generally higher. Steels and motors were irregularly lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 291.1 with industrials up .1, rails up .6 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.17 at 790.64.

Gains of more than a point by Eastern Airlines and Pan American highlighted the air carriers.

A point jump by General Electric was helpful to an average which tended to be a little soggy because of Du Pont's loss of nearly a point. Eastman Kodak, up a point, also helped to shore up the averages.

The questionable outlook for the auto industry in 1967 was reflected by easeiness in General Motors and American Motors while Chrysler nudged ahead fractionally and Ford was about unchanged.

Fractional losses by Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin overshadowed U.S. Steel's steadiness.

Prices were generally higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Quotations by Wood, Walker & Company, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 63 Wall Street, New York City branch office, 52 Main Street, Lowell S. Brooks, manager.

Saugerties Lighthouse

Simmons Home Damaged by Fire

Fire extensively damaged the interior of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Simmons on Light-house Road, Saugerties, Sunday evening. The fire was reported at about 7 p. m.

According to available information the fire started near the combination kitchen range and spread upward.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Simmons and their four daughters have appealed for clothing for the family.

Saugerties fire companies responded to the alarm and quelled the flames.

This morning, Saugerties firemen extinguished a chimney fire in a house on Malden Avenue. No further information was available.

Blaze Suspected

was fully involved in flame when they arrived.

Most of the reported incendiary fires this year were in downtown buildings, many of them in vacant structures owned by the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency in several of them damage was extensive.

A volunteer fireman from the Cordts Company lost a helmet on the Saturday night call, and if it has been found it is requested that it be brought to the engine house of Cordts Company, 211 Delaware Avenue, or Central Fire Station, 19 East O'Reilly Street.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Union officials are expected to advise their members to approve a proposed contract with the General Electric Co., that was worked out Sunday at Washington with the help of federal mediators.

Report Fatal Near Clintondale

State Police and Ulster County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp of Kerhonkson this afternoon were investigating a fatal car-pedestrian accident which occurred on a highway near Tuckers Corners, Clintondale.

State Trooper John McMickle of Kingston Sub-Station said the victim was reportedly a girl. A hit-and-run car was being sought in the area.

The death will be recorded at the county's 53rd traffic fatality of 1966 and the first since Oct. 28 when a Milton truck driver was killed in a collision of two trucks on Route 9W near Milton. No details of today's fatality which was reported to State Police shortly before noon were available at Freeman presstime.

Cite Possible Safety Hazards In Foreign Cars

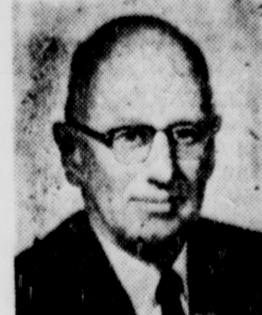

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee reports that foreign auto makers attempted to recall 238,142 cars imported into the United States between 1960 and 1966 to correct safety-related defects.

But Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., chairman of the subcommittee on executive reorganization, said Sunday night "the manufacturers and their dealers were able to reach, inspect and correct where necessary, 113,680 cars" — or slightly less than 50 per cent.

Ribicoff added that because of procedures used "we have no confidence that all cars contain-

Investment Advisor & Analyst
Growth, High Yield
Usually Incompatible

Q "We plan to retire next year with Social Security and the following stocks: duPont; General Motors; Pacific Gas & Electric; American Home Products; Safeway Stores; California Standard; Texas Utilities; American Telephone. We would like a better yield if we can obtain it and still protect our growth position. DuPont worries us because of its big drop. What are your suggestions?"

A I congratulate you on putting together an excellent list of stocks for your retirement. It is axiomatic that the yield on an issue is generally in inverse ratio to its growth prospects. I can, however, make two suggestions within the framework of your objective.

I advise you to switch American Home Products into Corn Products and California Standard into Jersey Standard for an increased yield of about one per cent in both instances. Texas Utilities is one of the fastest growth utilities but its yield of 2.4 per cent makes the stock rather rich for people in your situation. Your overall position is so strong, moreover, that you might well prefer to sacrifice growth here and double your income by switching into Duquesne Light of Pittsburgh.

In my opinion, duPont is the best of the big chemicals. Its decline appears due to price shading in synthetic fibers which has resulted in reduced 1966 earnings and a lower year-end dividend. I believe you have nothing to worry about and I recommend retention.

Q "I have taken $10,000 out of stocks and would like to put this money into Treasury notes for reasonable stability and as a tax shelter. What should I buy?"

A All Treasury issues are fully subject to federal income taxes, but are exempt from similar levies imposed by the states. If your income bracket is high, you should buy tax-exempt issues as State of Connecticut 3½s of June 1970 to yield four per cent. For stability without federal tax exemption, I suggest Treasury 5½s of 2/15/68, selling at about par.

Cablevision Still Working to Repair Three Amplifiers

A great display of community spirit and inventiveness was marred by several unfortunate incidents — unrelated to the Radio/Videothon itself.

That was the way Richard Allwork, manager of Kingston Cablevision, summarized Saturday's 17-hour long show featuring all-local talent, production and direction on behalf of the Ulster County Community Chest. The show was carried live and simultaneously by Cablevision Channel 10 and the three local radio stations, all of whom donated their facilities and services to this community effort.

Interruptions to Cablevision reception were traced to a faulty circuit-breaker with resulting damage to three prime amplifiers at the antenna site in Esopus, Allwork said. The Videothon signal on Channel 10 was not affected because it was being introduced into the system at Kingston.

800 Calls

Allwork denied that Cablevision personnel at any time "left the phone off the hook" to avoid receiving customer complaints. He revealed that a total of 800 calls were received in a three-hour period Saturday afternoon.

This volume of calls on two trunk lines not only delayed the receipt of incoming calls, but hampered Cablevision staff members in attempting to make the necessary calls to rectify the damage. A third line is reserved for outgoing calls, but several times company personnel attempted to expedite repair work by using one of the incoming lines, without success, Allwork said.

The faulty circuit breaker at the Esopus site had no direct connection with the Videothon, which originated in Uptown Kingston seven miles away. Allwork emphasized.

This failure Saturday afternoon forced Cablevision management to decide whether to restore service to Channels 9 and 11 and delete the remaining part of the Community Chest Videothon telecast, or to continue to show the Videothon telecast, or to continue to show the Videothon on Channel 10. The decision was made in favor of the local Community Chest program, a one-time, vital community effort.

As of this (Monday) morning, signals were not being received on Cablevision Channels 3, 5 and 10. Allwork revealed, still due to the damaged amplifiers. Repairs are now in progress.

Other Problems

Several other problems encountered during the Videothon were discussed by the Cablevision manager. When the show began at 8:30 a. m. Saturday, the audio portion was ineffective because sound levels required by the radio stations were different from those needed for the closed circuit telecast. This was quickly rectified with the procurement of a modulator supplied by one of the radio stations.

Isolated cases of poor Channel 10 reception were also reported, and these were attributed to the fact that Channel 10 is seldom used by many local viewers, and that sets were not tuned for that channel.

"We regret the inconvenience by some of our subscribers this weekend," Allwork said. "We certainly feel that Radio-Videothon was a tremendous example of cooperation by hundreds of area organizations and residents, perhaps the first attempt of its kind in the nation. We only wish public response to the appeal for funds to put the Community Chest over the top had been greater. We at Cablevision hope to participate in similar community projects in the future if the public so desires."

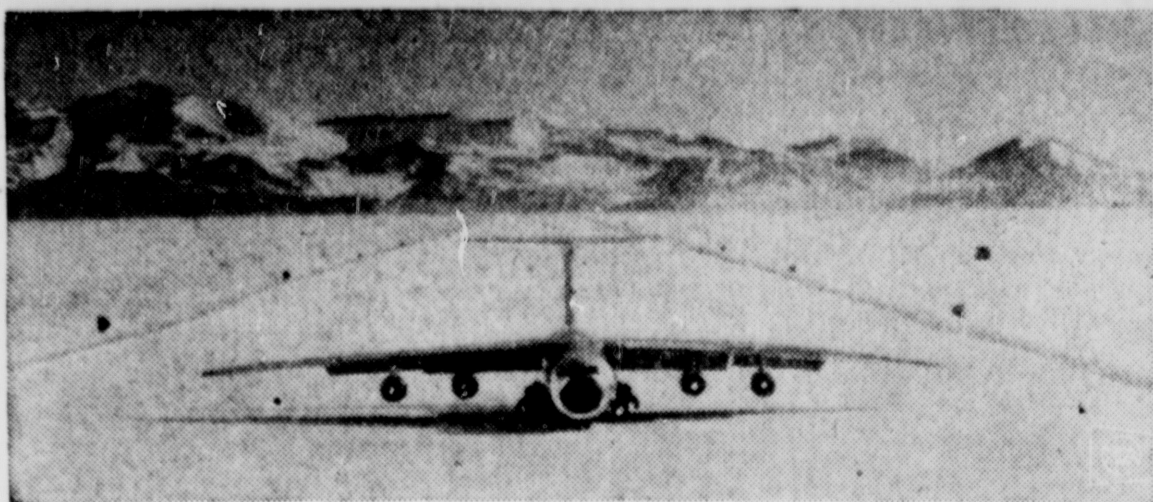

Mainland China To Be Topic at Baptist Dinner

A Trip Through Mainland China Before 1949 is the subject of a slide-talk following a congregation dinner this Wednesday 6:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church of Kingston.

The Rev. M. Gardner Tewksbury, a former missionary under appointment of the Presbyterian Board of Missions, will depict through slides something of the beauty and strength of China and her people with special references to the work of the Christian churches before the Communist takeover.

The Rev. Mr. Tewksbury was born near Peking, China and received his education at the University of Nanking. He was associated with the Presbyterian Board of Missions for 39 years during which he conducted evangelistic work among students in the eastern portion of the country, taught spoken Chinese and composed a text for the use of non-Chinese. He was married to a missionary teacher in Shanghai and his five children grew up in China.

Following the theme of the evening's program Chinese food will be featured. Reservations for the supper need to be made through the church office. Each family will bring its own table service. A free will offering will be received to care for the cost of the meal. Friends of the congregation are invited to attend by notifying the church office.

FIRST JET TO LAND in Antarctica is also the first of its type ever to land on an ice runway. The U.S. Air Force Starlifter transport paid its visit to supply the McMurdo base for U.S. polar expeditions.

Program Raises

to three amplifiers in the network.

"These amplifiers are very sensitive and they are vital to the proper operation of the network," Schuehler went on. "Their function is to define a specific channel and clear up all the miscellaneous signals near it."

"When they lost the critical amplifiers," Schuehler said, "Cablevision management was faced with either ending the televised portion of the radio-videothon, or else losing other Cablevision channels."

"Mr. Richard Allwork, Cablevision manager, told me that he felt that his organization had an obligation to this community and to this important effort, so he elected to continue televising the radio-videothon which meant that he had to lose Channels 9 and 11 on Saturday evening." Schuehler stated that the community was deeply indebted to Cablevision for all of their efforts.

Notes Special Thanks

Schuehler added that the committee was indebted to the staff and management of WBAZ, WKNY and WGHQ-FM. "I want to emphasize," he said, "that the personnel and facilities of all three stations, as well as Kingston Cablevision, were made available to us without cost for the entire day." He also singled out for special thanks The Kingston Daily Freeman and the newspapers of Ulster County who provided promotional support for the radio-videothon.

Of the many other participating organizations and individuals, which included several local banks, the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Co. Inc., the New York Telephone Company, and the Kingston Police Department, Schuehler said. "Anyone who listened to or viewed the program on Saturday knows that the number of participants reached a level which would defy any reasonable attempt to list. Mere thanks on the part of the committee would not do justice to the effort that many individuals have made, but I think it's a tribute to the public spirit of the citizens of Ulster County that an effort like this could have been planned, organized and executed with so much enthusiasm on the part of so many people."

Kiwanians Top

"Although we had many organizations who provided outstanding support, either by performing or by helping with administrative tasks," he said, "our special thanks and our first prize go to the Kingston Kiwanis Club who was the group responsible for raising the largest amount of money.

"I think," he said, "that everyone who participated in this effort has made the impression on our neighbors throughout the Hudson Valley, that Ulster County must be a very fine place, because the people who live here can get together and can work together in response to a community need as they did this past weekend."

Zane Grey wrote 50 novels which, at the time of his death, had a total sale of more than 1.7 million copies.

Smith Given More Time to Consider Rhodesia Answer

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)—The British government gave Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith and his Cabinet more time today to consider proposals which Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Smith agreed could provide a basis for an end to the Rhodesian rebellion.

The British warned Smith, however, that pressures were building up which demanded an answer from Salisbury within the next few hours.

Meet Four Hours

Smith and his Cabinet met for more than four hours this morning without deciding to accept or reject the "working document" which the two prime ministers worked out during a 48-hour meeting on a Royal Navy cruiser in the Mediterranean.

The Rhodesian answer had been due by noon (5 a.m. EST).

Arrangements went ahead in London for a meeting this afternoon of the Commonwealth committee on sanctions against Rhodesia to consider a request for mandatory U.N. sanctions if the Smith cabinet rejected the proposals.

Rules Out Changes, Delay Wilson Sunday night had ruled out any changes or delay in the document, which his Cabinet approved shortly after his return from the Mediterranean conference.

Smith outlined the proposals to the Rhodesian Cabinet shortly after he returned to Salisbury Sunday night.

Unless the way is clear soon to an end to the Rhodesian rebellion, Britain is pledged to call in the United Nations for compulsory, worldwide economic sanctions against the breakaway colony. That could produce heavy damage to Britain's shaky economy, as well as to Rhodesia's, because British relations with South Africa would be affected.

Details of the proposals were not officially announced. But Wilson told newsmen they were entirely consistent with six British conditions to insure unimpeded progress toward majority rule for Rhodesia's 4 million Africans.

The leaders of Rhodesia's white minority declared the colony independent 13 months ago rather than accept British demands for eventual African rule.

Power Would Revert

Under the agreement, qualified sources said, constitutional power in Rhodesia would within days revert from Smith's regime to the British governor, Sir Humphrey Gibbs, who would guide the formation of a transitional government.

Smith would stay on as prime minister and would make room for some moderate white Rhodesians in the government. Some Africans might be invited, also.

The new government would negotiate a constitution leading to statehood for Rhodesia, with guarantees for Africans of advancement toward majority rule and racial equality. Africans would immediately receive more seats in Parliament.

The British government would reopen trade, commercial and financial connections with Rhodesia and would move to end the present voluntary U.N. sanctions.

Troopers Arrest Pennsy Man After 209 Chase

After attempting to run through a State Police roadblock on Route 209, Town of Wawarsing, Saturday night, John Rothenhoef, 38, of Emmetsburg, Pa., was apprehended by troopers following a short chase.

Ellenville State Police said Rothenhoef was turned over to Ferndale BCI officers for questioning on connection with the reported theft of a 1966 sedan from the rear of the post office in Gettysburg, Pa., at 5 p. m. Saturday.

State Police Sergeant Henry S. Rhodes and Trooper J. M. Curtis were at a roadblock when they saw the wanted vehicle approaching. They noticed Maryland registration plates on the car and tried to halt the driver, who reportedly continued on but was soon overtaken by Rhodes and Curtis.

Rothenhoef was booked as a fugitive from justice.

No Break Seen In GE Strike

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—A strike by approximately 12,000 workers at the General Electric Co. plants here shows no signs of a break as one of the smaller unions involved has voted to continue its walkout.

Draftsmen, members of the 800-member Local 147, American Federation of Technical Engineers, voted, 513-75, Sunday to remain on strike.

They and 11,500 members of the Local 301, International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, struck Oct. 17 over local issues.

Company officials and IUE leaders are to meet with federal mediators in Washington Tuesday in an effort to resolve the six-week-old strike.

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?

Here's How To Feel Stronger Fast

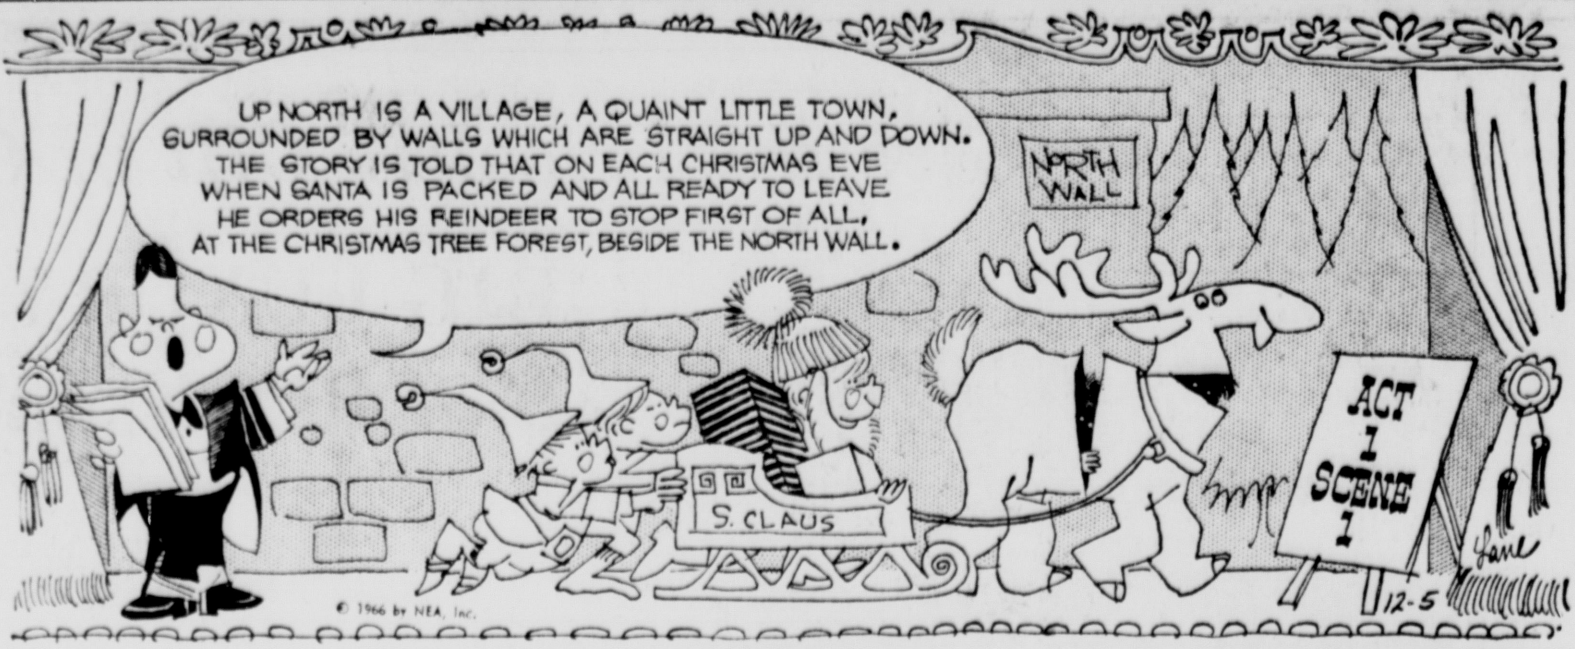

Have you been feeling tired and rundown lately? And do you take vitamins yet still feel tired? If so, your trouble may be due to iron-poor, tired blood. Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERITOL can! That's because just 2 GERITOL tablets, or 2 table-spoons of GERITOL liquid contain 7 vitamins plus twice the blood-building iron in a whole pound of calf's liver.

In only one day GERITOL iron is in your bloodstream carrying strength and energy to every part of your body. Check with your doctor, and if iron-poor blood is making you feel tired, take GERITOL, liquid or tablets, every day. Feel stronger fast—in 7 days—or money back from GERITOL.

Dear Abby . . .

The Meeting of the Minds

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Joe and I have gone together for three years and we are very much in love. We will both graduate from college in June and we want to get married. Our problem is my father. You see, he is a Baptist preacher, and Joe's father runs a tavern, but he is a respectable, law-abiding citizen just the same. To make matters worse, Joe and his family go to another church. What are we going to do, Abby? I am afraid if I tell my father I want to marry Joe he will have a fit.

DEAR ABBY: If Joe's father is a respectable, law-abiding citizen, no one need apologize for the way he makes his living. And your father, who makes his living by preaching kindness, compassion, and respect for one's fellow man, should surely practice it. As long as your father doesn't expect Joe's father to pray in his church, and Joe's father doesn't expect your father to pray in his church, and Joe's father doesn't expect your father to drink in his tavern, you should have no problem.

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "PRACTICAL" could have been written by me a few years ago. I also have a wonderful, generous husband who insisted on buying me expensive gifts for every occasion. He had a friend who owned the town's leading jewelry store, so whenever my husband wanted to buy me something he would go to his friend, who always had just the right item for me.

Being practical I hated to see my husband spend the money on trifles, so one day I went to the jewelry store and told the owner, "One more piece of jewelry and I am going to bring it back!"

He said, "Don't you dare. I have a customer whose wife did that, and now he's buying jewelry for another woman!"

After that, I kept everything my husband bought for me. NOT SO DUMB

DEAR NOT: Neither was the jeweler. It's not hard to figure out how he became the town's leading jeweler.

DEAR ABBY: How could you do this to us? After trying so hard to "graciously" decline dinner invitations at the homes of my pupils, you come out and say it's all right for teachers to accept such invitations. Abby, if I were to accept one, the other 37 would pounce on me, and it would mean one continuous round of wining and dining. And the evening is, nothing but a parent-teacher conference with the kids thrown in.

I have a rule — I never accept a dinner invitation at the home of a pupil as long as that child is in my room. If they really want me they can invite me after he leaves. (Would you believe no one ever has!)

SHERMAN OAKS TEACHER

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SICK AT HEART" IN MADISONVILLE, KY.: No one with any sense would take seriously such an outlandish rumor about a "nice, average, little 13-year-old girl." If I were you (or your daughter!) I would laugh and forget it!

Crime Rate Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation reports the nation's crime rate during the first nine months of 1966 rose 10 per cent over the same period of 1965.

FBI statistics show violent crimes increased by 11 per cent. This included an 8 per cent hike in murders and 11 per cent increases in forcible rapes, robberies and aggravated assaults.

Property crimes rose 10 per cent. The FBI said in its uniform crime report issued Sunday night. This included 12 per cent more larcenies, 7 per cent more burglaries and 10 per cent more auto thefts than during the January-September period of last year.

Crime continued to rise faster in the suburban areas, which registered a 12 per cent increase, FBI figures show. Cities with populations over 100,000 and rural areas reported 9 per cent hikes.

Will Continue Clubs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of the College Young Democratic Clubs of America intend to continue their organization despite a split with the Democratic National Committee.

"In the event that it is impossible to re-establish a satisfactory relationship — as it now appears — without the forfeiture of our freedom of expression on issues of vital concern, we are prepared to exist and build our party," the college group said Sunday in a statement.

The organization's executive committee met Sunday in an emergency session after its executive secretary, W. Gary Winget, and a club member, Michael Ferri, were fired last week from positions with the national committee.

Capital Footnotes

The Labor Department says state and local government payrolls have swelled by 31 per cent in the last five years and represent the fastest growing area of employment in the nation.

The American Veterans of World War II have protested a proposed memorial on the island of Guam to the Japanese war dead.

Communist Riots Force Macaons to Safety in Forts

MACAO (AP) — Police gunfire was heard again today after a weekend of Communist rioting in this Portuguese colony. Some Portuguese residents were being moved to the centuries-old Monte and Guia forts.

There were no immediate reports of deaths or injuries in the shooting. It was believed police fired over the heads of young hoodlums looting one of the approximately 20 buildings wrecked in the rioting by pro-Communist youths.

Army trucks guarded by armored cars and jeeps full of armed soldiers moved into Portuguese areas and began taking residents to the forts on the Twin Peaks commanding this six-square-mile coastal enclave of some 175,000 persons.

The colonial government announced that it will grant demands of Macao's Communist Chinese. Chinese make up more than 95 per cent of the enclave's population.

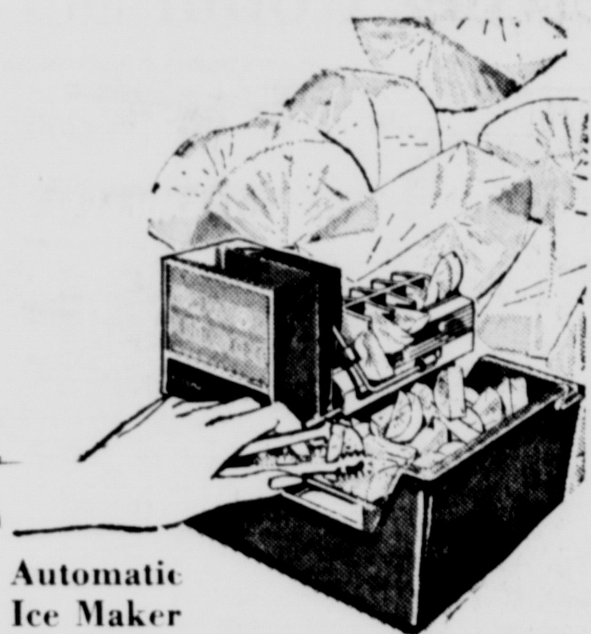

Repeated radio announcements said Governor Jose Nobre de Carvalho, who arrived from Portugal last week, had agreed to dismiss a Portuguese assistant police chief accused of allowing police brutality and to "recognize publicly" the interference with construction of a pro-Communist school.

The riots left a reported seven dead and hundreds injured.

Blazes Cause $700,000 Damage In Utica Area

VERNON, N.Y. (AP) — Total damage of up to $700,000 was estimated following two fires in this area near Utica over the weekend.

Flames destroyed the Burton Livestock Exchange here Sunday. Office manager LeRoy Biggar estimated the damage between $150,000 and $300,000. The building contained tons of hay and straw.

Saturday, two buildings at the Warlock Stone Co. in Perryville, were wrecked by fire. An official said the loss to buildings and equipment would run from $250,000 to $400,000.

In neither case was the cause of the fire determined immediately. No one was injured in either fire.

Find Doctor Dead In Spa Blaze

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — A doctor famed in France who retired to here several years ago died Sunday in a fire that destroyed his home.

The body of Dr. Neil Rogers, 53, was found near an upstairs bedroom in the two-story, frame house.

Rogers was a member of the American Hospital in Paris when that city was occupied by the Germans in World War II. He escaped to Portugal but returned to Paris with American forces in 1944.

He served as a surgeon at the hospital until he retired in 1961.

Rogers held two of the French government's highest decorations, the Legion of Honor and the Croix de Guerre.

Survivors include his widow, Ursula, of Derby, England, and a son, Iain, also of Derby.

Dr. Buck will use two projectors and two screens simultaneously to illustrate his talk with 45 stone rubbings and 45 wood cuts describing Chinese farm life.

City Court Cases

Charged with failure to comply with an order of a police officer and driving without a license, Judy Posner, 17, of Millers Lane Extension, Saturday pleaded guilty before City Judge Hubert A. Richter.

Miss Posner was fined $25 and given a 30-day suspended sentence on the license charge, and $25 for failure to comply with the police order. A third charge, speeding, was dismissed and Judge Richter placed the young woman on probation.

She was cited last month by Officers Joseph Kivian and Joseph Feraca after a chase, according to police records.

William Bernstein, 29, of Lucas Avenue, pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $15.

Thomas Komasa, 21, of Colonial Gardens, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct (littering) and was fined $10 and sentence was suspended. He also was fined $25 for speeding.

Ann Haywood, 37, Accord, pleaded guilty to driving an un-inspected vehicle. She was fined $5 and sentence was suspended.

N.H. Educator Dies

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Miss Ruth E. Pearce, associate professor of home economics at the University of New Hampshire, died Saturday night at her mother's home. She was 48.

Miss Pearce was a graduate of Pennsylvania State University and held a master's degree from Cornell University.

In Costa Rica the distillation of spirits is a government monopoly.

matter of fact

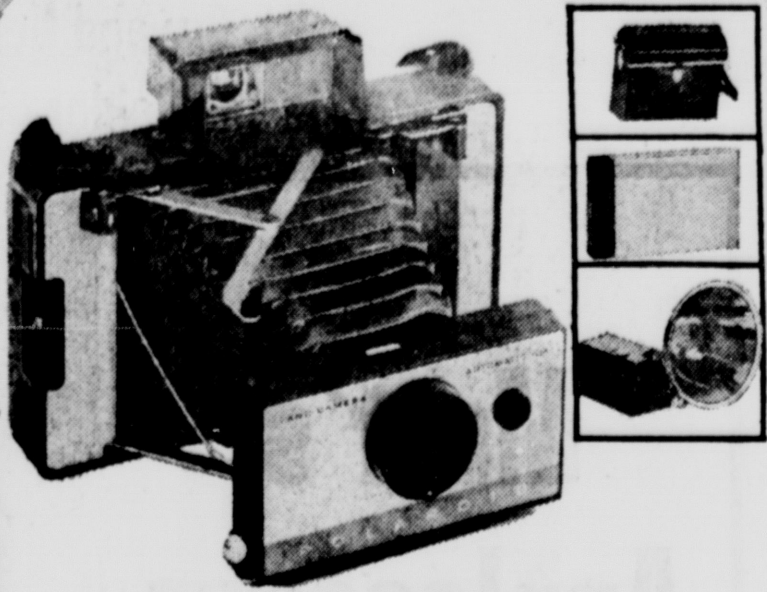

The hellbender is the common name for the great aquatic salamander of the eastern United States. It and a counterpart salamander found in Japan and China are the only survivors of this primitive family which dates back 70 million years. The hellbender lives in and around rivers, has a flat head and body and reaches a maximum length of more than two feet. It feeds on small fish and often takes the bait off fishing lines.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:
I work in a factory and the coffee machine is quite a distance from my desk.

Since there are usually several people wanting coffee at the same time... I brought a muffin pan to the office and use it to tote the coffee cups from the machine back to our desks!

The cups fit so nicely and you can carry six, eight or 10 cups—depending on the size muffin pan you use.

Also, in the event that someone doesn't give you the right change for their coffee, you could drop their change into the "hole" their coffee cup is in and always be sure you give the right amount back to them.
Pat Stiles

If you are mailing a package overseas, it's a great idea to wrap the article in a plastic bag before putting it in a box. This will keep out the moisture.
Heloise

Dear Heloise:
When making a dress, I slit a scrap piece of fabric the size of the button I will need, take it to the store and slip this material right over a button on the card. This way I can tell exactly if they are going to match, because the white card between button and material often distracts from the colors.

Wish I had known this years ago, but I just thought it up recently.
Opal Williamson

Dear Heloise:
When one of our children is ill, I invest in a new game, puzzle, or coloring book along with the prescription.

It keeps the puny one busy and is much better than tranquilizers for good old Mom!

Sometimes I must sit and teach the child how to play the game, then he teaches it to the others. This makes him feel important.

We've collected quite a number of sicktime toys that are enjoyed all the time. They just love 29c puzzles.
C. W.

Dear Heloise:
I discovered other uses for ready-to-discard leotards.

I cut them off above the ankle, and my daughter uses the bottom part for anklets around the house.
Mrs. Mary B.

Dear Heloise:
I needed a nightstand and my sewing machine was sitting in its mahogany cabinet in my closet.

I had it refinished to match my dresser and put it next to my bed. Now I have a unique and useful end table-sewing machine.

I never used the machine very much because it was such a nuisance to get to.

Making it a part of my bedroom was the ideal answer and no one even knows it's a machine!
Judi

Dear Heloise:
Is there anything as annoying as the children coming in and out of the house on a beautiful but muddy day?

My son has several pairs of rubber boots that he cannot get his shoes into because he has outgrown them.

So, he now puts on his socks and soft sole slippers and he can easily slip in and out of the otherwise too-small boots. This saves much time and trouble, and he is also getting more wear from the boots.
Kathy Maloney

This is exactly right. If you doubt it why don't you try it yourself? I think Kathy was a dream to send that one in.
Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I have seven children who love hot cereal but they got tired of it just sugared or with raisins.

One day I hit on the idea of putting the bowls of cereal on the table with packages of chocolate or strawberry powder which are normally used to flavor milk. Did they go for it!

Now they just spoon on whichever flavor they want (yes, they sometimes mix them!) and everybody is happy.

An old toothbrush is perfect for cleaning the cut glass designs on plastic facial tissue boxes and waste baskets.

A 13-year-old (Copyright, 1966, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

matter of fact

The European fire salamanders, far from being able to withstand the action of fire, as was believed by the ancients, are found only in damp places. They often emerge in great number after thunderstorms. They are harmless to man but the large glands on their smooth, shiny bodies secrete a milky poison, which protects them from their many enemies.

Christmas Concert Planned Tuesday By Kingston Club

The first concert of the Mendelssohn Club during the Advent season will take place Tuesday, Dec. 6, at 8 p. m. in the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, Kingston. Two guest soloists will join the 40-member male chorus in this first local performance of music primarily devoted to Christmas.

Edward L. Sprute, president of the Mendelssohn Club, has announced Gloria Haarby, well-known concert soprano from Milton, will sing a group of solo selections in French and English. She will also sing a medley from a Broadway musical with the Mendelssohn Club as chorus. Hasbrouck Dougherty of Kingston, accompanied by Mrs. David Bright at the piano, will be the featured baritone soloist.

Christmas music on the program prepared for this concert will include "Gloria" by Franz Schubert, "Carol of the Russian Children" by Gaul, "Alleluia" from the cantata "For Us a Child Is Born" by J. S. Bach, and the English carol, "Come Ye to Bethlehem" arranged by Katherine Davis.

Some familiar carols arranged for men's voices will also be heard. "Deck the Halls," "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel" and the beloved "Cantique de Noel." Charles Selzo will be the tenor soloist in this rendition of "O Holy Night."

A quartet of Mendelssohn Club members, Charles Taille, William Wood, Gustave Taille and J. Anthony Hummel, will add special contrasts to some of the choral offerings.

On the lighter side of the evening program, John Breithaupt on percussion and Andy Hummel on the string bass will accompany selections from Cole Porter's "Can-Can" and the folk song "Michael, Row the Boat Ashore." Albert G. Hunter Jr. is director of the Mendelssohn Club. Mrs. William Rylance is accompanist and Brian Steeves, assistant director. Tickets, on a donation basis, will be available at the door of the church Tuesday night.

CHRISTMAS

The Right Thing To Do

By Elizabeth L. Post

FRUIT CAKE FOR A HOUSE GIFT

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is in college and has been invited home by a dormitory mate for part of the Christmas holiday. What should he do—offer to pay for the three or four days he is there? Offer to help in the home? I am thinking of making a fruit cake and butter cookies for him to take to his friend's home. Please let me know what he should do. Mrs. Drew.

Dear Mrs. Drew: Three cheers for you! No money, definitely—and of course he should offer to help with the chores around the house. But the nicest thing you could do would be to send your home-made fruit cake with him. For the Christmas holidays, with friends dropping in unexpectedly, I can't think of a gift I would rather receive.

Entertaining Newcomers

Dear Mrs. Post: Second marriages of mature people often present problems which are non-existent in first marriages. When a man has married for the second time, do his friends make the first move and invite him and his new wife, or is the new wife expected to extend an invitation to people whom she has never met? May H.

Dear May: The man's friends should definitely invite him and his new wife to their homes. It is not the place of the second wife, as the newcomer in the situation, to extend invitations first. Of course there might be, among his very close friends, some he wished to invite over to meet his bride, but more formal acquaintances should call the newlyweds first.

Girl Wants Boy for Good Friend Only

Dear Mrs. Post: Please answer a distress signal! I have a boy friend next door one year older than I, quite serious and very sensitive. He is very sweet and I like him a lot but he really doesn't fit in my set. His clothes and his inability to dance make him quite immature. There are lots of other boys that I would like to meet. All I care to have him is a neighborly relationship. How do I obtain this and only this?—Distressed.

Dear Distressed: I realize you don't want to hurt him, but sometimes a little hurt now is better than a big hurt later. Level with him today. Tell him how much you like him and that you will always want him as a good friend but that you want to expand your list of acquaintances, and you don't want to get the reputation of being tied up with one person. Before you do it, though, be sure this boy's friendship isn't worth more than the ones you hope you may replace it with!

What is your most puzzling etiquette problem? To the sender of the most interesting question that we receive each week, we'll send a free copy of Emily Post's Etiquette, revised by Elizabeth L. Post. The question chosen, and its answer, will be published in this column every Friday. Send your question to Elizabeth L. Mrs. Mao Becomes More Active in Chinese Politics

TOKYO (AP) — Mrs. Mao Tse-tung is being given such a big political buildup that it suggests she is destined for bigger things after Mao dies.

The New China News Agency reported today that Mao's wife, Chiang Ching, gave her first major political address on Nov. 28 to 20,000 art and literary workers in Peking. Though Premier Chou En-lai and cultural purge chief Chen Po-ta also spoke, it was plain that she was the center of attention.

Her speech revealed that she has been involved in the politics of the cultural revolution only a few years, and that she had encountered setbacks and rebuffs from those engaged in the theater. The No. 1 Peking Opera Company — one of those which fought back — and several other top music and ballet groups have been taken over by the army, presumably at her insistence.

Chiang Ching was named cultural adviser to the army. She now has a foot in the army and the other in the party central committee. She is first deputy chairman of the party's nationwide cultural purge committee. As army adviser, she will report directly to Defense Minister Lin Piao. Mao's chief propagandist ally for Lin in his struggle to retain power in Mao's name.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Johnson, in a letter to U Thant congratulating him on his re-election as U.N. secretary-general, said he will give "closest personal attention" to U.N. peace problems. But meanwhile Thant told a Newsweek magazine interviewer Washington refused peace talks he tried to arrange with North Viet Nam in 1964-65, saying it feared even the rumor of a meeting might topple the Saigon government. There was no apparent connection between Johnson's letter and Thant's interview. A State Department spokesman said Sunday night there would be no immediate comment on the Newsweek article. Unanimously elected Friday by the U.N. General Assembly to a new five-year term. Thant told the assembly he would keep repeating that "this war must be ended" and that he would "make every effort on a personal basis" to promote a solution. Johnson's letter, delivered to Thant Sunday, did not mention Thant's plea Friday that the holiday truce in Viet Nam lead into a longer cease-fire to create an atmosphere for peace talks.

In the interview with Newsweek columnist Emmet John Hughes, Thant said he worked from September 1964 to January 1965 with the late Adlai E. Stevenson, then U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, to try to set up peace talks. The State Department in November, 1965, admitted Thant had informed if North Viet Nam was willing to talk with the United States in Rangoon, Burma. The department said it declined because "all our indications were that there was no serious intent on the other side."

Chains Will Drop Games, Others May Follow Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — After protests from picketing housewives, two supermarket chains have decided to drop promotional games. Some others indicate they may follow suit when their current promotions end, an Associated Press survey showed.

In Kansas City, games may be on the way out altogether. Three supermarket groups there have dropped games in which customers win prizes. Safeway Stores Inc., the nation's second-largest food store operation, announced this week it would get out of the game business in January — although its Bonus Bingo was credited for half of the chain's 1966 sales increase.

"They've run their course," said Robert A. Magowan, Safeway chairman. "We don't think they have raised prices, but if the housewife thinks that, we won't fight her." Purity Stores Inc., an 84-store chain in northern California, dropped its sweepstakes games earlier, and offered a choice of Blue Chip stamps or a cash rebate of slightly more than 15 cents on $10.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., which operates the nation's largest chain, said in New York last week it was neither adding nor dropping promotional games now.

"But that doesn't mean tomorrow or next week we won't change," an A&P spokesman said. Then in Kansas City, A&P joined Kroger Co. and Milgram Stores, a Kansas City chain, in dropping games.

Currently A&P doesn't have any games in its eastern division, from northern New Jersey to New England, but does in its other four divisions.

Kroger Co. in Cincinnati, Ohio, the third largest chain, issues trading stamps and runs an assortment of games.

The games such as Bonus Bingo and televised horse races came under fire this fall from housewives protesting that they added to food prices.

Safeway probably would have continued Bonus Bingo or started a new game if it hadn't been for the housewives' protests, Magowan said.

One firm, Strategic Merchandising Corp. of New York, has sold Bonus Bingo and other games to 4,800 supermarkets — including Safeway, A&P and National Tea. It estimates the games paid nearly $8 million in cash to 1.9 million winners in the year ended Sept. 30 — before the boycotts began.

In Portland, Ore., a spokesman for Fred Meyer Inc., which has Let's Go to the Races, said a decision on the game's future was being left to customers. "If the customers don't want them, we will be happy to pass the savings along," a spokesman said.

In Chicago, Jewel Tea Co. reports more people appear to be interested in its "miracle price" policy started Sept. 12.

"We have had a happy response from homemakers in reducing prices. The average family of four persons saves from $3 to $7 a week on supermarket purchases," Jewel said. "Jewel is using the lower price program instead of a chance on something or trading stamps," a spokesman said.

Princeton Decisions Army Cagers, 67-63

Princeton withstood a late Army rally to ruin the Cadets' basketball opener, 67-63, before a good crowd Saturday night at the West Point Fieldhouse.

The Ivy League powerhouse opened up a 10 point, 35-25, lead at halftime and led the entire second half.

However, a 56-42 lead early in that half was whittled to just a basket, 58-56, with 5:04 to play. The visitors then picked up a quick deuce and retained their margin the rest of the way.

Though they had a decided height advantage, the Tigers only outrebounded Army, 30-25. Princeton won the game on the foul line, sinking 21 of 25 attempts against an 11 for 17 total for the home side.

Bill Schutsky was high for Coach Bob Knight's club with 23 points. Ed Jordan, a 6-3 jumping jack, closed with 20 and Steve Hunt had 10.

The Cadets take a road trip this weekend, playing Friday night in Syracuse and Saturday at Cornell.

State U. Swimmers Tie Oswego, 47-47

A disqualification in the freestyle relay cost State University (New Paltz) a victory and the Hawks had to settle for a 47-47 tie in a dual swimming meet Saturday in Oswego.

The meet was the second for coach Art Stockin's team, which was nipped, 56-47, in its opener last week against Adelphi. The Hawks are host to R. P. I. on Tuesday.

New Paltz had a 47-40 margin against the home swimmers and had apparently captured the relay event, the final one on the program. However an official said one of the New Paltz swimmers had failed to touch one end of the pool and he disqualified the team.

Results:

400-yard medley relay—won by New Paltz (Dennis Golub, Dave Green, Len Moroff, Richard Bailey). Time 4:27.2.

200-yard freestyle—Anderson, Oswego; Rudekoff, New Paltz; Sweet, Oswego. Time 2:01.2.

Alcindor Shines in Debut, Scores 56 as UCLA Triumphs

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Vic Bubas, a highly successful young basketball coach, had a fine time Saturday night. And a dreadful time Sunday morning.

It concerned a little item he read in the paper about Lew Alcindor and UCLA and was enough to give a man in Bubas' position the shakes.

Alcindor, the highly publicized 7-foot-1 phenom, made his varsity debut with UCLA Saturday night, dropped in 56 points and spearheaded the top-ranked Bruins to a 105-90 victory over Southern California.

Bubas' Duke Blue Devils, fourth-ranked in The Associated Press preseason poll, opened with an 85-71 upset loss to Virginia Tech but rebounded Saturday night against Michigan 96-75.

Fine. Dandy. Bubas felt great. Now he faces two games this week with UCLA at Los Angeles, two games against the intimidating Alcindor who wasn't happy with his school record performance and vows he'll improve.

"I wasn't satisfied with my performance," Alcindor said. "I thought my shooting was adequate, but my defense could be much better. I've got to work more on my defense."

UCLA Coach John Wooden concedes the point that Alcindor's defense could stand some work, but added:

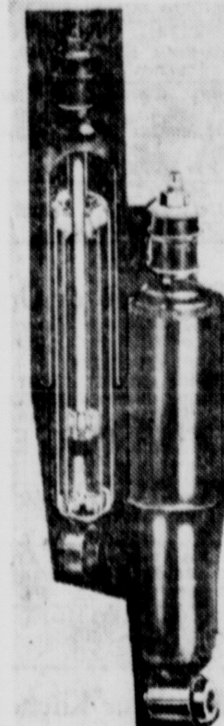

"Nobody is going to stop him from scoring points."

Alcindor's performance in his much ballyhooed debut seemed to bear it out. He hit on 23 of 32 field goal attempts and 10 of 14 from the free throw line.

"Alcindor is such an awesome scorer," said Wooden, "that sometimes he scares me."

So can you imagine how Bubas feels, heading into those games at UCLA Friday and Saturday?

It does all the work, but on Saturday night which one goes to the party?

Once upon a time there was an ugly little bug. It could go about 27 miles on just one gallon of gas. It could go about 40,000 miles on just one set of tires. And it could park in tiny little crevices no bigger than a bug.

It was just right for taking father to the train or the kids to school. Or to take mother to the grocery store, drugstore, dime store and all the enchanting places mothers go when everyone else is working. The ugly little bug was just like one of the family. But alas, it wasn't beautiful.

So for any important occasion the poor ugly

613 Attended Programs for Morse School

Some 613 visitations were made to classrooms and sectional meetings at Grant D. Morse School during American Education Week.

Invitations from the 733 pupils in attendance were extended to parents. In primary grades these were in the form of an office communication from Patrick Buonfiglio, principal. In the upper grades, letters were written by pupils themselves.

More than 338 visitations were made to classrooms between the hours of 9:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. Parents had the opportunity to see many, varied aspects of the instructional programs by spending time in their children's classes.

Guiding all visitors to rooms and other points of interest in the new building were Margaret Beeck, Darlene Bullock, Angela Checkley, Timothy Detweiler, Joseph Di Giacomo, Laura Fety, David Fuller, Julie Harter, Mary Ellen Houser, Mark Imhoff, Gary Kutcher, Bonnie Low, Osborne Maria Pece, Robert Praetorius, Paul Rodriguez, Jeanine Schmidt, Steven Sumpter, Shelly Tompkins, William Wilhelm, Gayle Wilson and Charles Wynnok.

Some 275 people attended a special evening program during which seven sectional meetings were each presented twice. All attended the two meetings which interested them most. Topics covered were off to a good start in kindergarten, Johnny Begins to Read, Science Through the Grades, From Op to Opera, Time for a Conference, Our Physical Education and Health Program and The Usual and Unusual With Audio-Visual. Chairmen were Mmes. Anna Mahony, Gertrude Peetom, Sandra Still, Inge Hayes and Dolores LaChance, and Ronald Kunst and William Provost, respectively. All teachers and special personnel served on the committees.

Miss Dash—Oh, Mr. Jones, I saw an advertisement saying that you could furnish your home by soap premiums. Every time you buy a piece of soap you get a furniture certificate. I am going to be married; do you think I could furnish my house that way?

Mr. Jones—Why, yes, Miss Dash, I had a friend who got all the furniture for a six-room house that way. The company only had to send him furniture for one room; the other five were full of soap.

A teacher asked her 7th graders for a definition of misery. Here are the answers: Misery is an eight year old brother. Misery is having to change the goldfish water. Misery is taking French lessons. Misery is doing the wrong page of mathematics. Misery is dressing up for church and then finding out it's only Saturday. Misery is going into the lunchroom feeling very hungry, only to find out they're having beefs.

Salesman—Ah! Then may I show you this work on 'Memory Training'—complete in twenty-four volumes?

Nurse—What church do you belong to?
Patient—None.
Nurse—Well, what church do you go to when you do go?
Patient—If you must know, the church which I stay away from most of the time when I don't go is the Baptist.

Warm Air Snaps N.Y. Cold Spell

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—An influx of warm air pushed into New York State today, snapping a cold spell that had New Yorkers shivering for the past three days.

The U.S. Weather Bureau here predicted that temperatures would continue to moderate Monday night and warmer than normal weather would prevail during the next few days.

The warmer temperatures, however, were expected to bring freezing rain Monday night and Tuesday to many sections of the state.

Across the state overnight Sunday, temperatures ranged from the low to high teens. Albany recorded an overnight low of four, however, and Glens Falls six.

Temperature to Rise, Rain Likely Tuesday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Extended forecasts for Upstate New York, as prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from Tuesday through Saturday:

Temperatures will rise to above normal levels during the next few days. Rain, likely Tuesday and Wednesday and again at the weekend, will total approximately a half an inch.

Daytime highs will range from the upper 30s and 40s early in the week to the 40s and low 50s near the weekend. Night time lows will be in the upper 20s to middle 30s.

HONOR BISHOP—The Most Rev. James E. McManus, CSSR, JCD, newly appointed pastor of the Church of the Presentation, Port Ewen, was honored guest of his parishioners Saturday at the Capri 400 Restaurant. Among the many attending were (seated l-r) the Rev. Joseph Wall, CSSR, assistant pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Esopus, and Bishop McManus; (standing) Thomas Miller, president of the Presentation Holy Name Society who was master of ceremonies; Mrs. Miller; Mrs. Paul Kennedy, Woman's Club president and Mr. Kennedy. Also attending was the Rev. Cecil L. McFarland, pastor of the Port Ewen Methodist Church. Father Wall spoke of his association with the bishop when they were both young missionaries to Puerto Rico many years ago and explained how the bishop's appointment to this area was a result of the recent Vatican Council. A letter was read from the Rev. James Cannon, CSSR, a native of Port Ewen, expressing his happiness at the bishop's appointment to the parish. Bishop McManus pledged himself to the well being of the parish. (Freeman photo by Kruhl).

Coat Trouble Leads to Arrest

Trouble over a coat reported missing from an uptown restaurant Saturday night led to the arrest of its owner on three charges and the subsequent booking of two others for allegedly interfering with officers in performance of duty.

Thomas Horvath, 34, of 21 Sterley Avenue, Saugerties was charged with second degree assault, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct after police were notified of a dispute over the coat at 11 Main Street. Officers Otto Short and Louis Sapp responded and lodged the charges after Horvath allegedly gave them trouble.

Today charges dealing with interfering with a police officer in line of duty were lodged against Edward Kuprian, 70, of 135 Prospect Street, Port Ewen, and Horvath's wife, Dorothy. The former was booked by Officer Short and the other by Officer Sapp.

They are represented by Attorney Aaron E. Klein, former city judge, and Judge Hubert A. Richter today adjourned hearing to Dec. 12.

Police said they had learned that the coat had been taken by mistake and was returned to the restaurant after the reported trouble.

A third degree assault charge against James F. Castle, 43, of 102 McEntee Street, which police said was lodged recently by his wife, Marion, was referred to family court.

Chest Pleased

Chest officials announced today they are very pleased with the Ulster County Radio-Videothron conducted Saturday by community organizations. The $12,417.49 obtained was more than we had hoped could be raised after an intensive 8-week campaign. The response from everyone was outstanding and tremendous. Businesses donated their time and technical know-how, organizations provided talent, many people manned the phones and public response for funds was gratifying. Chest officials commented.

Charles E. Raible, Chest campaign chairman, returned from a business trip abroad to be present. He issued a statement expressing appreciation to everyone. The campaign has reached $276,275 or 92.5 per cent of the goal of $299,600. This is 36.7 per cent over the $202,000, raised last year and sets a record for Chest-United Funds in most of the country. Raible said it supports the belief of the Chest in the citizens of the community. The 13 agencies will have to trim budgets a little but will have more funds than last year with which to serve the community. ural

Nugents Add Dog

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Nugent duplex in Austin, Tex. has a new occupant: a small white dog to romp the five rooms with a better-known house guest, a Beagle named Kim. The newcomer is a mongrel nobody wanted.

Mrs. Patrick J. Nugent, the former Luci Baines Johnson, said she took in the dog — "100 per cent dog" as she described it — because no one else would.

Prince Charles Accepted

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles, Britain's future king, will study at Cambridge University. Buckingham Palace announced Sunday night.

The palace said Charles has been accepted by Trinity College, Cambridge, for entry next October. Prince Philip said Charles probably would stay at Cambridge for two years and might then enter the British armed services.

Charles — who came of royal age on his 18th birthday Nov. 14 — took over from Philip as potential prince-regent. Should Queen Elizabeth II die or abdicate Charles will become king.

Families Flee Po'keepsie Fire

Three families were forced to flee from their homes in sub-freezing temperatures late Sunday night, after fire broke out in the third floor apartment at 174 South Avenue, Poughkeepsie.

Firefighters were dispatched to the scene at 11:38 p. m. and fire officials ordered a second alarm at 11:50 p. m. when the flames appeared to be spreading out of control. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined. Firemen were hampered as they battled the flames by the cold weather which caused water to freeze on hoses and on the ground, causing slippery conditions but no injuries were reported. Occupants of the three-story frame house made their way to safety without incident, authorities said.
